Looks like an old "tintype" photograph that could be found in many old albums, but the trio posed around the old school bell are Central Junior High School students, Allen Glen, Mary Woloschuk, front, and Karen Logan, who will perform in a pageant on "The History of Education" at the school Nov. 29 and 30. New Hope Sought

Red Arms Plan Studied by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday ordered a careful study of Russia's new disarmament proposals.

The aim is to determine whether they offer any fresh openings for negotiations which could end the East-West arms race and bring the threat of a hydrogen war under the control of a global disarmament program.

The State Department received from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow the text of a declaration disclosed in the Russian capital early Saturday. It was understood to have been accompanied by a message from Premier Bulganin to Eisenhower asking for its consideration here.

Bulganin called for a new summit meeting of the Big Four powers plus India, but not including Red China. He offered to discuss Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan which he had previously rejected as being more likely to produce new dangers of conflict than to promote the disarmament agreement.

Russia is also believed to have proposed the creation of a 1,000-mile buffer zone between East and West which would be subject to President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection plan.

The note, it is understood, repeated the Soviet call for a reduction of armed forces to the following totals: United States, Russia and China, 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men each; Britain and France, 650,000 men each; other nations, no more than 200,000 men.

'Saved Lives'

SIR ANTHONY EDEN

In a fighting speech yesterday Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden said Anglo-French intervention in the Middle East blocked communist moves and "saved countless lives and inestimable evil." Full report on Page 5.

Violent Roaring

Western Walkout

Khrushchev Tirade Chills Party

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev roared out so violently against "imperialists and their puppets" last night that NATO ambassadors and the Israeli charge d'affaires angrily stalked out of a Kremlin reception.

Veterans here could not remember anything like it.

The Soviet Communist party boss, at a reception honoring visiting Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland, railed that world peace had been threatened by the "bandit-like attacks of Britain, France and their puppet, Israel."

He blasted at "fascist gangs" which attempted to destroy socialism in Hungary. As he did so, Western diplomats irately shifted their feet and finally went into a huddle, but decided, out of courtesy to Gomulka, to wait until the new Polish Communist chieftain had had his say.

When Gomulka finished, there was a concerted move for the exits, with British Ambassador Sir William Hayter, French Ambassador Maurice DeJean and Israeli Charge d'Affaires Avi Chelouche leading the way. They were followed by U.S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen, Turkish Ambassador Kemal Nijhe Kavur, Dutch Ambassador D. J. Von Balluseck, Belgian Ambassador Walter Loridan, Canadian Ambassador D. M. Johnson and envoys from Denmark, Iceland, Italy, Norway and Greece.

Defiant Strike Goes On

Desperate Hungarians Prefer Misery to Yoke

'We Can't Work In Red Shadow'

BUDAPEST (AP) — Nearly 40,000 workers of the huge Csepel iron and steel works defied their leaders Saturday, ignored government appeals to return to their jobs, and continued their strike.

The plant on an island in the Danube was crowded with workmen. They stood around in groups.

The mood of the workers was desperate, bitter and firm.

"We know our decisions mean misery for us," one said, "but we can't work under the shadow of Russian bayonets.

"We are sticking to our demands 99 per cent and the rest (1 per cent) are working for the AHV (secret police.)"

Reports in Vienna said the Hungarian government had imposed harsh food and electricity controls to force an end to a paralyzing general strike.

Budapest broadcasts also said some labor leaders had urged a return to work.

Members of the plant's Workers' Council—leaders—were more cautious in their comments.

They said, however, they were embarrassed by Russian deportations of Hungarians.

A council member said the council is investigating all reports of deportations. He added the Russian commander at Csepel has denied they were taking place.

Nagy Only Hope

There have been widespread reports the Russians are shipping youth leaders of the uprising to the Soviet Union in sealed railway cars.

Both workers and leaders agreed in talks with correspondents that former Premier Imre Nagy was the only man they would trust to "insure the achievements of our revolution."

Nagy took refuge in the Yugoslav Legation after the Russians launched an attack to crush the revolution.

"As we respect Nagy and are anxious for him we wish he would remain in the Yugoslav Embassy," a council member said.

"First, there is no guarantee the Soviets would not arrest him when he leaves and, second, what is the use of his taking over when he can't achieve the withdrawal of Russians?"

Council members said Premier Janos Kadar would gladly turn over the post to Nagy.

They quoted Kadar as saying in negotiations with the council "bring him back, because this post is a burden for me."

The workers said Russian army officers, headed by a colonel, came into the plant's office this morning requesting information about those working and those not working. They demanded that work be started immediately.

There were similar reports from other Budapest factories.

The Workers' Council at Csepel was told that when "order has been restored" and workers return, the Red Army will withdraw from Csepel.

Promise Believed

One Csepel worker who participated in the negotiations with Kadar said he believed the premier was serious in promising free elections and a multi-party system.

"Find Bela Kovacs for me and I'll gladly co-operate with him," he quoted Kadar as saying.

Kovacs is a former secretary-general of the Small Landholders' party and a minister in Nagy's last cabinet.

The workers said they had unquestionable proof of deportation cases.

An elderly woman worker said her son was taken.

A young worker said a piece of paper thrown out of a train by his younger brother, who disappeared two days ago, was sent to him.

One worker, who said he came from Dunapentele, declared the Russians had taken away many young workers at the Dunapentele iron works.

He said work there was stopped again because of the Russian action.

(According to the Associated Press reports reaching Washington said that Hungarian rebels are being deported to the Soviet Union over railway lines running through Romania.

Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar claimed last week at Budapest that he had reached an agreement with Soviet military authorities that "no one may be deported.'

The reports available in Washington indicate that deportations were continued at least late into the week.

Thousands Taken

(Some officials have estimated on the basis of all available information, including press reports from Budapest, that between 10,000 and 20,000 Hungarians have been shipped off to Russia as part of the Soviet military campaign to smash the anti-Communist revolution.)

Only the food processing industry appeared to be working.

Workers of this industry informed workers in other plants that if they resumed work the food industry plants would be struck.

Workers expressed surprise that Imre Horvath, Kadra's foreign minister, had been recognized as the Hungarian delegate to the United Nations.

They said Anna Kethly, Socialist leader now in New York, "should speak for us in the United Nations."

Russian and Hungarian sentries stopped all cars on the road leading to Csepel, demanding identification.

Budapest residents beg at every corner for a lift from passenger cars or trucks in this city of 2,000,000 which now has no public transportation.

Ivan Boldizsar, a leading Hungarian newspaper man and prominent member of an intellectual group which supported the Nagy government, was arrested yesterday by a group of Russian soldiers and Hungarian secret police.

Journalists and writers protested the arrest. The Kadar government promised to investigate.

Silence Cloaks Mission

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold is heading back to New York tomorrow after a round of talks with Egyptian officials on the role of the United Nations police force in the Middle East. The talks produced no announcement of tangible results.

The U.N. secretary general had a three-hour conference today with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. Neither issued a statement.

EGYPT FIRM

Though about 400 troops of the lightly armed police force are already on Egyptian soil, Egypt showed every indication of standing firm in her opposition to police occupation of the Suez Canal zone. Such occupation is among conditions demanded by Britain and France for withdrawal of their own troops.

Fresh indications of an adamant Egyptian stand on the settlement came from two quarters:

1. The government announced all British and French citizens remaining in Egypt will be placed in forced residence, a phrase that seemed to mean house arrest, "for their own personal safety."

2. The government-backed newspaper Al Gumhurriya voiced a demand for war crimes trials as well as reparations for the Israeli and British-French attacks. It said the Egyptian people will not be satisfied with mere reparations for their losses.

Youth Beats, Robs Elderly Woman

A 76-year-old Victoria woman was in good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital after a beating and robbery as she was walking along Quadra near Green last night.

The elderly woman, Mrs. Mary McMillan, 2507 Quadra, suffered a broken wrist at the hands of a youthful attacker.

She told police the young man, wearing a zipper jacket, knocked her down and grabbed her purse containing 40 cents, her glasses, and personal papers.

Soldiers at Halifax hustle bedding aboard HMCS Magnificent, readying her to carry Canada's Middle East force.

Canada Waits UN Word

Troop-Sailing Delayed

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Saturday night the sailing of the Canadian contingent of the United Nations police force to the Middle East has been delayed 24 hours.

The men were to have sailed from Halifax aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent Sunday afternoon.

The Prime Minister said the sailing has been delayed because the government has not received word from the UN.

In his statement Saturday night Prime Minister St. Laurent directed attention to the fact that UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold has been in Cairo discussing with the Egyptian government the matter of consent before the emergency force can be placed in Egypt. All parties concerned, including Egypt, must give consent.

"As soon as details are settled, it is planned to authorize the dispatch to Egypt of the Canadian contingent and to advise the governor-general to summon a special session of Parliament," the Prime Minister's statement continued.

"As yet, word has not been received from the secretary-general and the cabinet is awaiting such word in order to meet and take the necessary action.

"As a consequence, orders have now been issued to defer the sailing of the HMCS Magnificent for at least 24 hours from 3:30 p.m. AST (11:30 a.m. PST) Sunday for which it had been planned."

Did It on Purpose

Skeet Champ Shoots Plane

MANISTIQUE, Mich. (AP)—World skeet-shooting champion Chesley J. Crites took careful aim with his deer rifle yesterday and fired eight times—at his own four-seater airplane.

Crites, 46, of Detroit, had no choice. He had started the plane's motor at Blaney Park airstrip near this upper peninsula town, not realizing that the throttle was wide open.

The plane broke its tie-lines and roared off down the field, never leaving the ground but circling the field crazily out of control.

Crites, president of the National Skeet Association and current international skeet shooting champion, grabbed his deer rifle and fired away at the plane.

Eight bullets ripped into the motor. Then as Crites watched sadly, the plane caught fire and burned—a total loss.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

WHY are so many young servicemen allowed to go deep in debt, a reader asks.

"One family I have in mind has two small children, with another due almost at once. They have been living on potatoes for the last [illegible] except when one or two of us have helped with small sums of money and groceries — but this is a drop in the ocean. Each pay day the creditors come and go, and threaten.

"They are from Ontario. He was 18 and she 16 when they married. Her first child was born a year later. After he joined the navy they had the usual spell in the East and two years ago were moved to Victoria. And then their troubles started.

"A car—must have a car. So he buys one from another navy man for $650—nothing down and $30 a month. Then along come the TV boys and the refrigerator boys and so on. All that time he is repaying a fairly heavy loan to his parents. The child had to have an operation and some months in hospital, and the grandparents paid.

"The last year he gets behind with all these different payments and has to sell the car—at a loss, of course. But he still has to pay $30 a month to his laughing fellow-rover. Next his wife has $100 stolen from her baby buggy in a store (he had just cashed his pay cheque). And so we get back to the potatoes.

"I know this is an extreme case, but there are others almost as bad." The reader remembers sharing an apartment house with two navy couples and one army couple, all of whom were in debt.

"The point is that these young recruits . . . have no idea of money . . . and no experience of living on a budget. They rise as trout to the may fly, to the blandishments of the nothing-down merchants.

"Could not the Chamber of Commerce or some such body make it illegal for these youngsters to buy on credit without the signature of their superior officers? Maybe each newly-joined service man should be forced to sign a statement showing what liabilities he has already incurred. . . . If some control were imposed, there would be lighter hearts and happier homes in the long run."

That's a good idea—but why confine it to servicemen? Thousands of civilians are in up to their necks, too. They need someone to rescue them from their own extravagance. Half the people in the country are drowning in red ink.

* * *

"Several weeks ago . . . you made reference to the proposed increase in the price of liquor," writes another reader. . . . "Appreciating your sympathy for all those impoverished distillers' corporations. . . . I enclose the latest report of one of them. . . . (It shows a net profit of $23,022,546 after taxes.)

"After studying the report, I am sure you will agree that an increase in price is certainly justified. Why, in order to show any profit they have to branch out into other industries and a portion of their small profits, only $21,000,000, is invested in oil and gas properties. . . . Judging by the waning strength of this company's product, drilling new water wells would appear to be a matter of prime necessity.

"I hope the two operations . . . are separate . . . or we might experience a little gas in our whisky. . . . It might be an improvement."

This reader is too unkind to the poor old distillers. They are small operators compared to the government. The distiller gets 80 cents for a bottle of rye that sells at $4. Government grabs the rest. Any time a distiller finds a way to open his own retail store, I'll pay him 80 cents with a smile.

Chili Pepper Best Replaced

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Mexican Chili Pepper—(N.B., Oak Bay). While technically your little chili pepper houseplant is a perennial, in actual practice it tends to become woody and straggly in time.

As they are so easy to grow from seed, it is much more satisfactory to treat them as annuals and keep a young plant coming along to replace its predecessor as the older plant loses it neatness and shapeliness.

The seeds on the little red "candles" on your plant may not be viable. To be on the safe side, I am sending you a pinch of fresh seed to start some more plants.

Virginia Creeper — (L.H., Heriot Bay). I can't say from personal experience whether or not a Virginia Creeper would cling to a wall of asbestos shingles, but I am inclined to think it would climb satisfactorily.

The sucker-like discs on the ends of the tendrils will cling to stone, as you will remember from the glorious vines which covered the front of the Empress Hotel, and as asbestos is a form of rock, I don't see why it shouldn't attach itself just as enthusiastically to this material. Always providing, of course, that the fibre shingles have not been treated with any chemical distasteful to the vine.

It is a little late in the year now to plant out some new roots of Virginia Creeper, and I think it would be best to leave it until spring.

Tomato Failure—(S.J.A., Victoria). The most likely reason why your tomatoes rotted before they could ripen is an attack of potato blight. As the tomato is a very close relative to the potato, it suffers from many of the same diseases, and blight has been very common this past season. Better spray or dust with a copper fungicide next year.

A contributing factor could be a shortage of potash in your soil. I suggest that you dig in plenty of rotted manure into the site, suplementing this with one-quarter cupful sulphate of potash per square yard. This is best dissolved in water and applied with a watering can.

A little sawdust is a good thing in a lawn site, either mixed into the soil before laying the lawn, or as a thin mulch over the top. Never apply sawdust without giving a dressing of fertilizer at the same time.

Flowerless Waterlily—(S.J.A., Victoria). The most frequent cause of failure to bloom in waterlilies is insufficient sunshine—they need a lot of sun in order to perform properly.

These are hungry plants and need a rich diet. It is usually necessary to replace the soil in the box or basket every year, using rather heavy loam soil, somewhat on the clayey side, mixed with one-sixth its bulk of well-rotted cow manure and a dash of coarse bone meal. Don't use any other kind of animal manure or the water in your pool will develop a green scum.

St. Andrew's Players Show Verve, Promise

By BERT BINNY

Seams of St. Nicholas' Hall were strained last night by the audience attending an entertainment by St. Andrew's Cathedral Players.

The program included two well-received solo items, "Phonetic Punctuation" by W. M. McGovern and gymnastics by Hans Peeters.

First of two one-act plays was Phoebe Smith's "Stranger Than Fiction." This it was as to the plot; so strange indeed that the cast was not quite able to make it believable.

There was some good characterization in this play. Betty Wood's short part was long enough to suggest immense promise as an actress. Steve Novini did a good job in the role of Fred Kendall. Nina Boudewyn as Kate Lundy required considerably more intensity. Director Larry Westendale, who played Mr. Morgan, handed himself a hard part indeed.

The second play was Lady Gregory's "Spreading the News," successfully directed by Dr. E. T. W. Nash.

This production showed a refreshing pace. There were no weak characters while Sally Rogers as Mrs. Tarpey, Jim Pickford as Barclay Fallon and Mickey Muir as Jim Casey were outstanding. Here was a cast which, given excellent material to work with, knew what to do with it and did it.

A notable feature of the whole evening and one for which the St. Andrew's Players deserve congratulation was the number of new names among the players.

Inexperienced some of them may have been but it is axiomatic that they would remain that way unless afforded the opportunity to gain experience before audiences as they did last night.

Mr. Al Ritz was master of ceremonies for the evening.

Strike in U.S. Seaports May Hit City Shipping

The spreading longshoremen's strike in the United States could tie up shipping operations here, officials said yesterday.

Sixty thousand [illegible] have been ordered out on strike in U.S. ports on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Many others on the Pacific coast are expected to decide this week if they will follow the same course.

One shipping agency here, George Paulin Ltd., already has felt the implications of the strike.

The vessel Loch Haven is scheduled to arrive at Cowichan Bay Monday evening or Tuesday to load lumber. It first had to go from Vancouver to Seattle, where dock workers meet Monday to decide for or against strike action. A spokesman for the ship's representatives here said they were hoping they could rush it through Seattle and get away before any strike action, to prevent a costly tie-up.

This company has only the Loch Haven to worry about this month. December will be a big month for it, however, and operations could be hamstrung by a prolonged strike.

Cecil Ridout, of King Bros., said a short strike wouldn't hurt the ships his company represents here and none is immediately affected because all are loading out of British Columbia ports.

"But if the strike lasts a long time, we would feel the pinch then," he said.

The strike was called Thursday midnight by the International Longshoremen's Association (Ind.), deadlocked with port of New York employers on terms for a new contract.

Lull in Gale Lets 'Copter Rescue Four

PORT HARDY, B.C. (BUP)—A Pacific Western Airlines helicopter yesterday took advantage of an unexpected drop in 50-mile-an-hour winds to pluck four men off the lonely tip of Vancouver Island where they had been stranded for a week.

The four had been living on crackers and meal for most of the week since a sudden storm carried away their barge and supplies.

Three of them are employees of Northwest Telephone Co.—R. Hetherington, L. C. Work and R. Radra, all of Seattle. The fourth is F. J. Sillett, a Canadian employed by the department of transport at Port Hardy. All are in good health except Hetherington, who had a slight heart attack Friday. He was reported in good condition.

With the shooting over, for the moment anyway, these Israeli troops laugh as they commend "General Goose" for his victory in the Sinai Peninsula. The goose mascot went through the six-day invasion with an armored unit without a scratch or complaint. —(CPC)

Speech Acts as Guide

Tito Splits Reds

By BORIS BOSKOVIC

BELGRADE — President Tito's speech last week condemning Stalinism in the Hungarian rebellion has met with silence so far in important parts of the Communist world.

This underscores a feeling here that world communism is split into two camps in its opinion about the Hungarian uprising.

The big question here is: Which wing will prevail in Russia itself and on what side is Red China.

NO COMMENT

Borba, official Yugoslav Communist party newspaper, reported without comment tonight that the speech has not yet been published or commented on in Moscow, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

On the other hand, the Budapest government radio and the Polish press have carried a great deal on the sensational speech, in which Tito blamed Stalinist elements in the Soviet Union for the events in Hungary.

The Italian Communist newspapers also have published the speech while the French party organ Humanite—according to Borba—published "short excerpts accompanied by polemical remarks."

The difference in handling Tito's speech confirms opinion here that there now are two camps in the Communist world:

One which supports President Tito in attributing the Hungarian events to past Stalinist methods and another which does not.

The pro-Tito wing, it is believed here, comprises the Communist parties in Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, France and East Germany.

It is believed here that when the Russian comment becomes available it will be seen which wing is prevailing in the Soviet leadership.

Expert Erred—Rancher Pays

Tax Fine—$20,000

OKOTOKS, Alta. (BUP)—A Dewinton, Alta., rancher yesterday was fined a record $20,000 and costs for filing false income tax returns over a 10-year period. He appeared before Magistrate Helmer Jacobsen at Okotoks, 22 miles southeast of Calgary.

Harold H. Hunt was ruled guilty of filing 10 false returns [illegible] 1941 to 1950 and then evading—according to the department of national revenue—taxes totalling $92,556.

Income tax officials said the fine was the highest ever imposed in a farm tax evasion case. Hunt indicated he would pay the fine and was given a week to raise the money. Costs were assessed at $27 and should he fail to pay, he will [illegible] charge.

Harold C. Riley, QC, counsel for Hunt, told the court his client had ranched in the area since 1901 and "if the figures the department puts in front of you are correct, he has worked since 1901 for nothing."

He said Hunt had not prepared his own personal returns, but that from 1941 to 1951 they were prepared by a reputable lawyer, and from then on by a trust company.

"I suggest when a farmer tries to cheat on income tax it seems unlikely he would hire a trust company," he said.

Magistrate Jacobsen told Hunt: "I believe what you said the other [illegible] too old to tell lies. However, this is a case in which we have to act on what has been produced. I am sorry, but you have been found guilty."

W. B. Cromarty, QC, special prosecutor for the department, told the court, "I am suggesting, Your Worship, the fine be $20,000."

'Something Still and Green'

PERHAPS one of the reasons why the urban and suburban regions haven't as many parks as they should have is that too many people regard a park as an expense. The official attitude towards the setting aside of land for the perpetual enjoyment of the public is prone to preoccupation with the element of cost. A park is looked upon as something which must be developed and "improved," and thereafter maintained as another burden on the taxpayers. There seems to be a common inability to visualize a park as anything but a formal layout of flower beds, artificial pools and neatly trimmed shrubs and hedges, or cluttered up with the paraphernalia of a playground.

Parks of the "improved" variety are a delight to residents and visitors alike, and where they reach the excellence of Beacon Hill and Stadacona they are something to be proud of. There is a need of them in any city; and also of playground equipment suitably distributed. But that isn't all that a park stands for. A patch of woodland, the bank of a stream, a rocky knoll with its moss and wildflowers where no one has tried to improve on nature—these can be infinitely more precious to many people.

To develop every public preserve is often to spoil rather than to enhance. Was there ever anything lovelier than the wild part of the Uplands before it became built up with houses? Through the foresight of the Oak Bay council part of that natural gem was saved from the onslaught of "development," but elsewhere almost all the sanctuaries where people used to be free to wander have fallen or are falling into the hands of the builders and few in authority seem to notice or show concern over the irreparable loss.

There is food for earnest thought in the recent words of Governor-General Massey on the trend towards artificiality: "Could we not, in improving our parks, try to preserve and embellish the natural beauties? I know we must have playing fields and recreation grounds, but could we not give more thought to the increasing thousands of apartment dwellers who, after practising the art of survival on our city streets, and dazzled by the glitter of Neon signs, need to see something still and green?"

Great Britain's Necessity

AS a signatory of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, Canada rightly may be concerned with the creation of any new blocks against commerce, but it is too early to view the proposed economic union in Western Europe in the light of a threat to this land. Out of her own needs Great Britain must maintain the growing volume of industrialization which is now her standby. Her interest in European discussions concerning free trade or other means of expanding intercommunication in commerce of necessity is regional before it could be anything else. The United Kingdom must look to the sterling bloc countries with whom an exchange is possible.

Why should Canada fear a drawing together by Western European nations in trade matters? Being outside the sterling area, this nation has itself limited the volume of trade that can be done in terms of Canadian dollars. There will remain the basic products which Canada can supply best in competition with the free world, and whatever volume of imports from this country members of the sterling bloc can afford out of their own economies. For the United Kingdom, Canadian dollars are difficult to get. At the same time intensification of industrial competition, the advent of automation and now access to nuclear energy for industrial power are providing Britain with both the necessity and the opportunity to go forward—not back.

It would be more to the point if the government at Ottawa studied how Canada could assist a greater degree of cohesion in trade channels in Western Europe; in the end that implies less competition, better understanding and more amicable relations in Europe and therefore all round.

It Depends on the Ox

SHRI JAWAHARLAL NEHRU is entitled to wear an old school tie, although he probably doesn't, but so far as we know he has never been a schoolmaster. Nevertheless he is about the greatest lecturer on the world political stage. No one sits so morally on a fence as does India's brilliant but bemused prime minister. He never ceases to preach a good conduct lesson to all and sundry, while blandly ignoring the stones that could be thrown in his own direction.

Few people are aware of the mote in their own eye, but Mr. Nehru can scarcely have forgotten his initial declaration that the people of Kashmir should decide their own political fate. Even if on a less world shattering scale this state has been in dispute as much as have been national boundaries in the Holy Land. The United Nations has been keeping the truce for several years between Pakistan and India over its final disposition. Despite this India has dominated the area and recently manoeuvred its "accession" to India, consistently refusing to allow a plebiscite to be held to determine native desires. It has there "acquired" outside territory without a by-your-leave.

Prime Minister Nehru's lectures to the West would go down much better were he not guilty himself of the interventions he deplores elsewhere. His sincerity would not then be open to question and he would be of vastly more value as a mediator between East and West. So for that matter would the UN's prestige be increased if it did not sidetrack the Kashmir affair as of minor importance. The principle of self-determination should be the same for small as well as for big nations. It would appear that in Mr. Nehru's opinion it depends however on whose ox is being gored.

Island Editors Say

The Causes of Inflation

The shortage of plumbers which is now delaying construction of the new hospital building here is a perfect example of the inflationary danger which the federal government has been so concerned about for months. The simple fact is that construction work on Vancouver Island has outstripped the labor supply. If this meant only that some projects, such as the local hospital, would be delayed, the situation would not be serious, but some projects cannot be delayed and contractors are offering premiums of one kind and another to obtain the tradesmen they need when they need them. When that happens, costs go up without any corresponding increase in the amount of work done.

To try to check this situation before it gets out of hand, the government has been tightening up on credit, making money harder to get in the hope that spending can be held within the limits of goods and services available. It is a drastic measure, because it does not discriminate between essential and non-essential projects. In many cases it is creating actual hardships.

—LADYSMITH CHRONICLE

Nurseries for Pa and Ma

Down in Ladysmith, a parent has asked the Chronicle, "Why don't the ferry companies put nurseries on the boats running between Vancouver and Nanaimo?" The same parent says he would be happy to pay an additional fee if a nursery were available.

What next? Are children becoming so boring to modern parents that they must be herded into a nursery during a short 2½-hour trip across the Gulf?

Time was when it was a pleasure to see families of six or eight enjoying the trip to Vancouver on the ferries. Now, with smaller families the rule, it seems that even two or three children bore some parents.

Might be better to try the suggestion in reverse—put the parents in the nursery, so that for once in their lives the kids could have the run of the ship, without the nagging criticism of parents whenever they play leap frog over the piano or put the tiniest pinch of pepper in the captain's tea.

—PARKSVILLE PROGRESS

Children on Bicycles

The better the roads and the faster the cars and trucks, the more dangerous becomes travel for the cyclist and pedestrian.

No one thinks of allowing a child of 10 or 12 to drive a car on a public highway alone and unaided. The fact that children of tender years ride bicycles on busy thoroughfares calls for constant alertness on the part of the motorist. The motorist must preserve a special place in his mind for the child cyclist, imposed by the immature mind of the child himself.

The growth of road traffic should not lull any of us into a comfortable feeling that a good surface is all that a road needs. Wider roads, more rounded and open croners and signs in all built-up areas should accompany the safety drill.

—COWICHAN LEADER

Impressive Milestone

Formal dedication of a new church at Brentwood and induction of the minister have just been observed. Here is a milestone in the cultural and religious life of the Saanich Peninsula which should be noted at this time.

Population of the entire peninsula is growing year after year. It is encouraging to see that this population growth is accompanied by the erection and dedication of additional churches as well. The good people of Brentwood who have made this new institution possible and who have dedicated it to God's work today are entitled to satisfaction in seeing a good job well done.

The clergyman, Dr. A. K. McMinn, is already well and favorably known in other parts of the peninsula where he has resided in the past. Residents of the entire area will wish him well in his new task.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

CONTEMPLATING the tangled Middle East skein a Rotary friend said at lunch the other day that the longer he lived the less he knew. He is not alone with that feeling.

What he meant was that he had trouble deciding what was what, and small blame to him. Some people pontificate easily on Suez as though everything were crystal clear, when in fact I'll wager the principals themselves—Eden, Eisenhower, Nasser, Bulganin et al—find the situation annoyingly opaque.

It takes a bit of honesty to confess puzzlement, however, and my friend is as intelligent as the next person.

* * *

Egypt may have had nothing to do with his fright but it's perhaps no wonder an Oregon man sought reentry into the penitentiary after sampling life outside prison walls.

He couldn't take the current hubbub we call life.

* * *

Emotion so often rules the roost, which is one reason the mind grows confused. Truth, you see, is a matter of relevancy. Told me by a reader in another context but germane to today is the following fable:

In a wayside coffee-house in Surat travellers from afar gathered round the stove and each lauded his own country in glowing terms. A Chinese, for example, cited the sun that shone in China as though it were exclusively a Chinese sun. And after each arrival had told his tale of home an old blind man, who had never seen either sun or country, spoke up.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I have listened to your stories of home and travel and I believe each of you spoke truly, but it seems to me that the truth is like a many-faceted diamond around which we are all sitting, and each sees only one facet but thinks he sees the whole."

* * *

A reader sends me a clipping about a place where when the buses are full the conductress says: "Will the half-fares stand, please?" Whereupon up jump the youngsters, and mothers with babies and old people laden with parcels sit down thankfully.

Neat diplomacy.

* * *

Strange how so many western observers fall for the notion that when it comes to diplomacy the Russians are the experts these days. Never a crisis arises but we are told this is another defeat for the West, and this indictment is being repeated about Suez. An unscrupulous opponent like the Soviet Union will always have an advantage over the West since it stoops to conquer by any means, but it is a mistake to assume that the Kremlin is full of master minds.

The probability is that the Russians dither in secret as much as we do. Postwar German documents, for example, proved that behind the seemingly unified, implacable might of Germany in wartime there existed a chaotic confusion far exceeding the cross purposes of our side. The Russians are no more expert than anybody else and one of these days they'll make a bloomer from which they won't recover easily.

* * *

I would be more alarmed too about the latest eight-nation Arab pledge were it not that I've been hearing about a Moslem Holy War ever since my schooldays. This is the theme that sparks John Buchan's "Greenmantle" and many another hair-raising yarn. The hair stays in place however if you remember that among themselves the Arabs make indifferent allies and that even at best coalitions create uneasy bedfellows.

Letter from London

Coventry---A Renewal of Faith

By RICHARD L. THOMAS, Daily Colonist Correspondent

LOVELY lights of human faith and dignity continue to illuminate the darkness of Europe's political winter—the heroism of the Hungarians who prefer death to tyranny, and the enthusiasm of the young people in Britain who are volunteering for an international brigade to help the Hungarians, quite apart from the countless thousands all over Western Europe who have offered homes and hospitality to those who have managed to escape across the Austrian border to comparative safety.

"Comparative," because all things are relative in the dark, dank atmosphere of diplomatic clouds—yet even so mankind with an eye to eternity ca express its faith in restoring to the glory of God the shattered buildings which went with our dreams a decade ago. As we wonder what the immediate future may bring, the Bishop of Coventry (Dr. C. K. N. Bardsley) has signed a $3,000,000 contract with John Laing — the main contractors of Annacis Island development — to build a new Coventry cathedral to replace the burned-out shell left by German hopes of world domination.

The new cathedral should be a serviceable house of worship within five years, even though it will be far from completed. The contract provides for the building of the superstructure of the nave, the internal vault and the porch linking the new cathedral to the ruins of the old. The foundations and nave floor have already been laid.

* * *

It has taken 16 years almost to the day to complete arrangements for the rebuilding of the cathedral and if all goes well it should be possible to open the new building on the 21st anniversary of the destruction of the old during the "saturation blitz" which gave war a new fury even as it ushered in the atom age.

The building of the new cathedral starts with sufficient funds in hand to pay for the whole contract. Donations have been received from all over the world—Canadians have been especially generous—and these donations combined with the war damage payment have created a fund which will cover the whole of the cost of the present contract; though as the building progresses it is hoped that further gifts will be forthcoming to provide the high altar, pulpit, lectern, font, choir stalls and seating for the congregation.

The organ has been provided by Canadians, and many other gifts have been promised; so that the whole building—Britain's first post-war cathedral—may be a worthy tribute to man's faith in things eternal. Two other cathedrals started before the war are still being built—the magnificent pile at Liverpool, a massive and breath-taking monument to this age, and the humbler beauty of Guildford—but the rebuilding or rather the building of a new cathedral at Coventry has a special place in the heart of the nation.

* * *

It is not, of course, that the old cathedral was especially beautiful or even of any great historical value. It was, in fact, a former 19th century parish church which became the cathedral when the ancient diocese of Coventry was revived after the First World War. Like Birmingham and Oxford it was carved out of the still more ancient diocese of Lichfield, which was shrunk in area as new sees were created to cope with the industrial expansion of the Midlands.

The agony of prolonged discussion and disputes over the new cathedral and its architectural features caused intense anxiety to Dr. Gorton, the former Bishop of Coventry who inaugurated the plans for reconstruction and who took his frustration to the grave with him. The new cathedral will owe much to Dr. Gorton, a kindly, generous and devoted servant whose simple faith and passionate devotion to the ideal of Christian reunion was monumental, and who went to an early grave the victim of misunderstanding, but leaving behind a rare spirit of tolerance and humanity.

It fell to Dr. Bardsley, his successor, to complete the arrangements for the new cathedral on the basis of compromise which has left many people dissatisfied, but which promises in the end to provide a worthy building for what is, in fact, a new and virile industrial diocese bearing the name of an ancient see which lay dormant for centuries.

Professor Basil Spence, the architect of the new building, has announced that he wants it to "sound and smell" like a traditional cathedral, though it will have light walls in order to reflect the glorious coloring of the new stained glass windows which have already been completed and received universal acclaim. It seems that modern artists have not only recaptured the wonder of medieval stained glass but improved upon it.

* * *

Significantly Professor Spence commented that the new cathedral will cost about the same as one Vulcan bomber. He could have added that we could build 10 of these cathedrals every year on what it costs us to manage our national insolvency in the form of the national debt, the capital value of which is equal to $1,750 for every man, woman and child in the country. Indeed the alarms, excursions and bombs which have been provided since Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal would have bought us a couple of dozen cathedrals.

Perhaps we should be thankful that just one is rising to remind future generations that even in the darkness there is a thin pencil of light along which the human spirit soars.

Eight Reds Jailed

EIGHT members of the Communist Party of Canada were sentenced to five-year prison terms, 25 years ago. The Toronto court recommended that seven of them be deported after they had served their term, and that all property of the Communist Party in Toronto be confiscated.

The eight men were found guilty of being members of a seditious conspiracy. Canada and Japan were the only two countries in the world that had taken such action against Communism.

The Statute of Westminster bill was introduced in Britain's House of Commons, November 12, 1931. It provided that no law by a dominion parliament should be ruled out because of conflict with a British law; and gave dominion parliaments the power to amend British laws in their territories. The United Kingdom would not legislate for the dominions except by consent.

This document marked the advance of the dominions to the status of self-governing nations.

Mayor Herbert Anscomb of Victoria announced that he was retiring after three years' service. David Leeming announced that he would enter the mayoralty contest to oppose Frank Le Roy, nominee of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, and Eugene S. Woodward, independent. Later, E. B. Andros announced that he would also enter the race as an independent.

LIQUOR used to be sold in Victoria grocery stores. Fifty years ago this week, a group of "drys" sought to halt such sales.

"A petition was presented to the city council . . . signed by J. B. McCallum and 250 others, requesting that a referendum vote be taken at the next election for mayor and aldermen, on the question of abolishing grocery store liquor licences.

"Ald. Fell said it was just as impossible to abolish the grocery store liquor licences as it would be to abolish butcher shops. Eventually the petition was referred to the city solicitor for a report as to whether the city had any right to abolish the licenses."

VICTORIA merchants prospered on Cariboo gold, 85 years ago. "Business never was better in this town," The British Colonist reported.

"Traders who barely survived the dull times of summer are now reaping golden harvests. . . . There are no more listless hangers-on . . . inside or outside the store-doors. Every person in business has as much as he or his employees can attend to . . ."

About $500,000 worth of gold dust left Victoria for San Francisco aboard the steamer Pacific. "We hope that the press of that city will credit us with the whole of it, and not divide by two or three," The Colonist remarked.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IN VIEW of the prevailing discussion of John Foster Dulles, it is mean to go searching through my 1954 diary to find the following snide impression: "John Foster Dulles makes me think of a large loose broody Plymouth rock hen who, instead of sitting firmly on her eggs, keeps wandering agitatedly around the barnyard. Her (this) eggs will addle."

There is something evangelical in the physical appearance of Dulles and in the unction of his utterance. Maybe he missed his calling. The first time I saw him was at the San Francisco conference in 1945, and I mistook him for a parson rather than a lawyer, because he had the frank look of a man with a mission, a look that only clergymen are expected t wear openly. At that time his zeal was such that though a Republican he had already been accepted by Roosevelt, and later by Truman, a the instrument of their policy i highest level negotiations with foreig nations, with Russia, and in framin treaties with Japan.

It was a foregone conclusion tha he would be secretary of state whe the Republicans came into offic Whether the missions with which h had been entrusted by the Democrat turned him into a missionary, o whether he got those assignment because he was a missionary, he ha been a missionary secretary of stat his zeal only equalled by his energy The half dozen times I have glimpse him since, though not presuming t any political understanding, I hav been reminded of the character yo will invariably see at Sunday scho and fraternal picnics who, with hi coat off and his vest unbuttoned, taking charge of everything, unloa ing the picnic provisions from th trucks, setting up the ropes for th children's races, seeing to the trestl for the tables, here, there and ever where, subduing the boisterou lighting the boilers for the coffe acting as official starter for the sa race, and, with his vest buttoned a coat on, being Johnny-on-the-Spot welcome the pastor when he arriv and escorting him to the heart of t scene and, indeed, in a voice n equalled even by the pastor's, int ducing him to the gathering.

Letters to the Editor

Airport Parking

In your editorial of Nov. 11 you wondered if the department of transport had thoroughly reviewed the decision to lease a parking area at the Patricia Bay Airport to a private operator. The decision to lease this concession was made with the following in mind:

Our present staff is primarily engaged in operating and maintaining the airport runways, hangars, etc., which are required for safe flying in and out of Patricia Bay. The parking area requires supervision which the department cannot provide without an increase in staff.

Supervised parking will mean better security and better service for cars. In the present unsupervised area cars frequently suffered from damaged fenders, flat tires, dead batteries, empty tanks and even frozen radiators.

The travelling public requires the service of a garage at the airport. It is less expensive to the taxpayer for us to lease the parking concession in combination with a service station than for the department to operate a supervised parking area by itself and charge parking fees.

The car owner will pay for the entire cost of parking his car. If it were provided free by the department, the taxpayers who do not own cars would be helping to pay the cost of parking. Commercial parking has proved satisfactory at other airports throughout the U.S. and Canada and, in general, free parking is becoming the exception rather than the rule.

Rates charged for parking will be subject to the approval of the minister of transport. Some are will be left for free parking.

As Others See Us

I think the suggestion a good one, that is made by your native-born Canadian correspondent, Teresa Mann, that "vox pop" be heard with regard to the review of the week's news that was made over CBC last Sunday by Andre Laurendeau.

As another native-born Canadian, I have already written M. Laurendeau himself, care of the CBC, heartily congratulating him on his factual report, and expressing the opinion that we should more often hear a spade called a spade.

If your indignant correspondent feels inclined to cling loyally to the slogan, "My country, right or wrong!" I would suggest that she give some thought to the hope expressed by the Scottish bard: "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us, to see oursels as others see us!"

I feel sure that Bobbie Burns would have relished the straightforward talk by M. Laurendeau — another native-born Canadian? — that was so acceptably and delightfully rendered in his good French-Canadianese.

Tax on Bibles

Mr. Frank L. Godfrey would seem to be somewhat disturbed over the fact that the Social Credit government does not see its way clear to abolish the tax on Bibles. Why should they? Bibles, like other books, are sold at a profit, and are therefore just as taxable.

Costly Stop-Gaps

Within the next month the voters of Saanich will be called up to elect members to council. One question sure to be discussed will be the municipal hall. There are those who want a new one, and those who cherish the old.

The question that should be answered is whether or not a satisfactory job can be done on the old hall for the money in hand, or whether this is purely a stop-gap plan, and not cheap at any price. Some of us already think Saanich taxes are sky high because you get nothing for your money. Stop-gap methods and hand-to-mouth building in the past have resulted in a tremendous backlog of unfinished business.

It would seem logical that if honest evaluation is made there can only be one plan that is most desirable, and it is up to the elected representatives to get together and evolve that plan. Without a competent municipal manager it is difficult for a council to get all the facts straight. After all, councillors are not trained to operate a big business any more than an artist would be to run a farm. I personally feel that if the money paid to the councillors was given toward hiring a man of proven experience in municipal management, Saanich might enjoy the planning being done in Victoria and the quality of leadership found in Oak Bay.

Help on the Highway

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the Quarter-Milers Club who so kindly assisted me on the Malahat last week. They extended me every courtesy and certainly displayed good sportsmanship.

Their endeavors to assist people who are in difficulties on the road should not go unnoticed and I think that the citizens of Victoria and district should get behind this club and give them all the publicity they can.

Thanks again to the Quarter-Milers, Victoria's Modified Car Club.

UN Police Force

There seems to be a widespread misconception concerning the United Nations police force. The resolution setting up the force specifically stated that the troops would enter only with Egypt's consent. We must remember that an overwhelming majority of the nations had termed the attack on Egypt an aggression; it is unrealistic to think they would support action which would mean United Nations troops taking over and holding conquered Egyptian territory. On the contrary, it was clear during the debate that few, if any, of the nations were prepared to support any motion which would have set a precedent for the entry of United Nations forces into their territories without their consent.

However unpalatable they may be, there are other facts which must be recognized. A large majority of the world's nations refused to acknowledge the right of Britain and France to act as world "police." That claim, in any case, was weakened by the fact that action was directed against only one combatant; even though a householder may not be considered a first-class citizen, if his home is invaded, police do not dash in and help the invader.

We must remember that the paramount purpose of the United Nations is to abolish the use of force in the settling of international disputes. Let us hope now that Britain and France will prove themselves truly great; great enough to co-operate wholeheartedly in helping to restore the faith and goodwill without which the free nations cannot hope to check the forces of tyranny.

Diefenbaker Says:

Ottawa Retreats On U.K. Criticism

TORONTO (CP)—John Diefenbaker, candidate for leadership of the Progressive Conservative party, said yesterday the federal government has backed down from its "gratuitous criticism" of Britain over the Suez crisis.

Mr. Diefenbaker, here to attend a series of weekend meetings with Western Ontario supporters, made a fresh demand for the government to produce correspondence with Prime Minister Eden on Suez.

He said Canadians have a right to know the government's stand on the question.

In Ottawa, Davie Fulton, candidate for the Progressive Conservative party leadership, said yesterday the British-French armed intervention in the Suez illustrated the folly of the lack of a United Nations police force.

He said he does not know "what other action the prime minister of the United Kingdom might have taken in the absence of any available international police force."

The Commons member for Kamloops, B.C., speaking at a press conference, said he thinks everyone supports and welcomes the action of External Affairs Minister Pearson at the UN in proposing the resolution to set up the police force which now has been formed.

But the government could be criticized for not actively seeking formation of such a force earlier and for not seeking a common approach among Commonwealth members.

Mr. Fulton said he regrets that at a recent UN General Assembly session on the Suez crisis "that there did seem to be a period when Canada appeared to be aligned on the side of Russia and against Britain and France."

To Discuss Hall

Oak Bay council may discuss plans for the proposed new Oak Bay $250,000 municipal building at its meeting Monday night. A decision may also be made on whether to present the necessary money by-law at municipal elections next month. It is planned to build the new hall on the site of the old Oak Bay High School which is being demolished.

Needle Dust

Five-Voiced Soloists

By JIM TAYLOR

When Frank Sinatra first started massaging a microphone and crooning, his only vocal accompaniment was the screams of fainting teenagers. But all this has changed.

Nowadays any top vocalist has a least a quartet humming in the background, and in most cases a chorus behind the quartet. And when the quartets make records of their own, there's usually another group singing behind them.

Just how important are these background groups? Apparently the powers at the Columbia Record Company think they're very important indeed. They put Canada's Four Lads back of Johnnie Ray on "Cry" a few years back and the Lads used the hit as a springboard to success. Ray's latest hit "Walking in the Rain" is backed by the Ray Coniff chorus, as is Guy Mitchell's "Singing the Blues."

All of Elvis Presley's hits are backed up by the outstanding Jordanaires, and in Jim Lowe's "Green Door" most of the singing is done by the quartet behind him.

Which proves one thing. In this era of ever-changing hit parades, a singer is only as good as the people he sings with.

* * *

Winner of the I Like Elvis contest is Mrs. Irene Holland, Norman Court, not because I agree with her, but because hers is one of the few letters to discuss his singing. The rest all deal with Elvis as a person. For example: "I like Elvis because he is good-looking and is not a dope addict" . . . "Who's making more money, you or him?" . . . "Elvis is good to his parents."

All that doesn't enter into it. I dislike Presley because I don't think he can sing. If I did it wouldn't matter if he held up banks in his spare time. But of course he'll never have to do that, since he just signed a contract guaranteeing him $1,000 a week for 20 years.

* * *

BEST OF THE LATEST: "Dreamy Eyes" is the first offering of a new group called the Four Preps. It could be a big one. . . . Eileen Rogers returns to the record scene with another ballad, "Give Me," and Kay Carson has an almost certain hit in "There's a Shadow Between Us" . . . Frankie Laine's struggle for another hit is ended. His latest, "Moonlight Gambler" is his best yet . . . The Jodimars, part of the old Bill Haley group, have cut something called "Midnight" and the Cues do a great job on "Why."

Watch for a new vocalist (?) soon to hit records. He wears a turban, and jumps around like Elvis with St. Vitus Dance. His name? Screaming Jay Hawkins.

Eden: 'We Make No Apology'

'We Halted Reds'

Allies' Case Stated In Forceful Speech

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Eden said yesterday Anglo-French military intervention in Egypt blocked a Communist plot which would have led to "the loss of countless lives and more evils than we can ever estimate."

"We make no apology, and will never make one, for the action which we and our French allies took," Eden told a Young Conservative club rally.

Eden said there had been "talk in plenty" in the United Nations about the Middle East, but "the United Nations looked the other way" while majority opinion was ignored or repudiated.

"Meanwhile," he said, "destructive influences have been at work. The deep divide between the Communist powers and the Free World has been secretly dug beneath the surface of these Middle Eastern lands."

Eden said some persons argued Britain and France should not have stopped their military action until they occupied all key positions on the canal.

But Eden said, "We had said that we would cease all military actions as soon as the Israeli and Egyptian governments accepted an unconditional cease-fire and the international force."

Egypt and Israel agreed and "in the light of the undertaking which we had given," Britain and France ordered a cease-fire.

"We had already secured our main objective—to halt hostilities and thereby prevent their wider spread. Our two powers . . . could not have done more.

"I repeat, we make no apology. Still less do we accept comparison with those who have slaughtered God knows how many thousands of the brave and unhappy people of Hungary."

Eden said the Hungarians "incredible gallantry" had been told to the world. "The Soviet attack has been exposed for what it is — a brutal onslaught on a people whose only wish was to be free.

"Compare that again with our action. Every conceivable precaution was taken by our forces to avoid blodshed."

The Prime Minister said surprise was expressed at the vast extent of Soviet equipment captured by Israeli forces in the Sinai Peninsula.

"Who can doubt that aggressive plans had been carefully laid?" he asked. "They had indeed been proclaimed."

Slap in the Face

Eden said to ignore the situation would be a slap in the face of reality.

"It would, of course, have been possible for us to avoid facing this danger. For a while we could have turned our backs on reality, while the tension was mounting and Soviet power was steadily infiltrating throughout the Middle East."

He added "and for Britain this would have meant being slowly strangled."

Eden said fear spread through Middle East countries of domination by Egyptian President Nasser. "As a consequence, the danger of an outbreak of war, which would have spread through the Middle East, was immediate and menacing."

It was not only a question of the Arab-Israeli question.

"Graver still in the long run, both for our interests and for peace, was the growing military power of the Egyptian dictator, framing plans of conquest which he has never attempted to conceal."

Britain, the prime minister said, welcomes United Nations observers in Egypt. But no UN observers—"let alone a UN force"—had been allowed on Hungarian soil.

"There is too much of a tendency in the world to hound the democracies because its a safe thing to do, and to condone and even excuse dictatorships because they cannot be coerced. Moral weakness of that kind will never build a good law."

Those who suggested the Anglo-French action struck at the roots of international law should reflect on the fact that law was always associated with order; the two things could not be separated.

"It is futile to speak of the rule of law unless there is not only the will but also the means to uphold it. If we renounce the use of force when law cannot command order then we are in fact undermining the rule of law.

Moral Cowardice

"We are leaving the world open to the lawbreakers. To do this would be worse than moral cowardice. It would be folly of precisely the kind which in the 30s led the world to disaster."

Eden said "we must not repeat the mistakes of the pre-war years by behaving as though the true enemies of peace and order are armed only with good intentions.

"Whether we like it or not we are confronted with the fact that force is an integral part of the policy of some nations. We have just witnessed an appalling example of this in Hungary."

He added: "They do not have to observe the same rules. They are not pledged to base their action upon the support of their own public opinion. They can more easily ignore that of the world. They can act swiftly and aggressively.

"They can take advantage of the natural reluctance of the free world to act effectively to deprive them of what they have seized.

"Therefore, let all the friends in the free world stand together and recall that peace at any price has never yet averted war."

Youth, Experience Promise Two Interesting Recitals

By BRUCE LAWTHER

Two promising newcomers from Vancouver and two established artists newly arrived in Victoria give interesting recitals at the start of this week.

Varick Hewitt, 18-year-old soprano, and Valery Lloyd, 16-year-old pianist, conclude a lengthy tour of the four western provinces for the Registered Music Teachers' Association with a program of fairly serious music in the Art Gallery at 8.30 tomorrow.

At the same time Tuesday, in the Empress ballroom, the Musical Arts Society gives its second concert of the season, by former Toronto soprano Margaret Abbott and former Vancouver bass-baritone Derek MacDermot.

MARGARET MYLES
. . . completes cast

The range in the youngsters' recital is from Bach to Strauss to Kabalevsky; in the other from Prucell to Debussy to folk songs. Both are worth the time.

The Meistersingers open their local season at 8.15 Friday with a "folk songs to Oratorio" program at the Gordon Head elementary school.

Dudley Wickett again leads the 20-voice choir and Maquinna Anderson is accompanist. Proceeds go to the Gordon Head Scouts, Cubs and Guides organizations.

Ruth Champion, who did such a good job at the G and S revue, and Betts and her buddies are soloists.

Also on Friday, Victoria Symphony Orchestra and violinist Esther Glazer are in Duncan for the same program they will do in the Royal Theatre here Dec. 2 and 3.

* * *

Addition of Victoria-born contralto Margaret Myles, a Tacoma resident who has sung the work here before, completes the cast of Handel's "Messiah," to be given by Victoria Choral Society in the Royal Dec. 10. Other soloists are Margaret Abbott, Derek MacDermot and Karl Norman.

* * *

Cast also is complete for "Christmas Carol," which Victoria Theatre Guild studio group will present in Lagham Court theatre Nov. 28 and 29 to raise funds for the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Principals are Vaughan Barker, Scrooge; Gerald Lawrence, Bob Cratchit; John Green, six-year-old son of a dramatics teacher, Tiny Tim.

Others in the large cast are Cliffe Clark as Fred, Margaret Bayliss as Mrs. Cratchit, Clark Gilbart as Marley, and Charles Martin, Dorothy Dunbar, Tommy Lake, Joan Middlemass, Sheila Fahey, Jill Kellie, Paul Bayliss, Donna Moatt, Rose Meriweather, Horace Mayea and as Christmas past, present and future, respectively, Mary Bell, Vivi Petersen and Marina Lake.

Guild also presents "Dear Brutus" Dec. 8 to 15.

* * *

Upcoming Dec. 4 in the Royal Theatre is the next Famous Artists program by Chinese bass-baritone Yi-Kwei-Sze.

St. Luke's Players will do two one-act plays in St. Luke's Hall Dec. 6 and 7.

* * *

The radio program "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" is no more.

In recent years, it helped Victoria singers John Dunbar, Stanley Martin, Michael Rogers and others. While no local singers ever won first place Dunbar was second one year.

It's believed the sponsors dropped radio for TV this year.

College Players Pick Comedy with Music

Victoria College Players' Club, after reading nine plays ranging from stark tragedy to fairy tales, has chosen a contemporary comedy with music as its annual [illegible]

Jean Anouilh's "Ring Around the Moon," translated by Christopher Fry, will be presented on five nights, Feb. 26 to March 2, at the college by this ambitious and excellent organization.

Decisions still must be made on cast, music and many other matters, says club president George Cummings, a second-year arts student.

He said the club read everything from "Crucible" and "Winterset" to "Ondine," two Irish plays and "Teahouse of the August Moon."

A vote of the 30 members chose "Ring Around the Moon" for several reasons—fewer technical problems, its standing as a "charade with music," and its modernity.

Most of the cast will be making their debuts. Because of experience in Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not for Burning," presented last year, graduates Marjorie Gilbart and Catherine Arnold will be in a Fry play at UBC this year.

In addition, Bruce Holker, who designed the sets at the college last spring, is designing the sets at UBC.

Derek Pethick of Royal Oak will give a series of five radio talks of F. Scott Fitzgerald, famous United States novelist of the jazz age.

A tremendously moving story of war-time Britain and a man who, because of his views, becomes a potential deserter from the army; and a woman who believes in her country. . . . Perhaps particularly applicable to our critical times. . . . Supported by a powerful cast, this is the first and only time these two stars have been co-starred together. Very good entertainment.

Duncan to Hear Glenn Gould

Glenn Gould, the amazing young Canadian pianist who is a world-wide success at 25, will be one of the three guest artists at Duncan symphony concerts, Victoria Symphony Orchestra conductor Hans Gruber announced yesterday.

Mr. Gruber said the orchestra will appear in Cowichan High School Friday and on Feb. 22 and March 15. In each case it will preview the program to be heard here the following weekend.

At 8 p.m. Friday, the orchestra will play Elgar's "Enigma" variations and Copland's "Outdoor" overture. Esther Glazer, wife of Vancouver conductor Irwin Hoffman, will perform Tschaikowsky's popular violin concerto.

GLENN GOULD
. . . success at 25

Victoria baritone John Dunbar and conductor Clifford Evens will present a popular program in February. In the final concert, Goud will play Beethoven's fourth piano concerto.

Ticket sales are at a number of stores in Duncan and at Fletcher's in Nanaimo and are said to be going well.

JAPAN BIG BUYER

Japan was Australia's biggest customer for wool in the July-September period of 1956 with imports of close to $40,000,000.

Film Festival Held in B.C. Every Year

British Columbia has an international film festival, says W. P. Orr of West Vancouver in answer to a recent report in this and other newspapers that Yorkton, Sask., has the only such festival in North America.

The B.C. festival is held annually in the Kootenay area, and this year drew more than 7,000 persons at stops in Trail, Nelson, Creston, Rossland and Castlegar.

Seventeen entries in the five categories were received from organizations in Canada and the United Kingdom.

Winners were "Road of Iron," National Film Board, industry; "Stratford Adventure," National Film Board, artistic achievement; "The Face of Saskatchewan," Saskatchewan government, sociology; "B.C.—Canada's Evergreen Playground," Standard Oil, geography and travel; "Color of Life," National Film Board, science.

I Know What I Like

Suicide Took Time and Effort

Recently I conducted a survey of the spare-time activities of 32 typical Oak Bay "teenagers."

It came as no surprise to find that television monopolized their attention, on the average, 2.5 hours every day (I could have written 2½, [illegible] tific); nor was I amazed to discover that reading — all reading: books, magazines, newspapers—was allotted a scant half-hour.

What was surprising was that for them, moving pictures had virtually ceased to exist. High scorers logged a trip "to the show" once every two weeks, while a half a dozen claimed that they went no oftener than once a year.

If this trend continues the movie moguls must face the unpleasant fact of a growing generation quite free from the movie habit. Their answer to television, so far, has been typical of the thought processes which one associate with Hollywood.

First, the "gimmick"—so we were deluged with 3-D, Vista-Vision, Cinemascope, sterophonic sound, paralyzing Nauseacolor and other ingenuities.

[illegible] mick and to expose the limitations of the television screen, subjects were selected which gave the technicians a field day, but sent the moviegoer home feeling as empty as a hungry man who has been offered a gargantuan meal of highly-colored wax fruit.

Strangely enough although the word "budget" is seldom off the movie director's lips, the idea of artistic economy seems abhorrent to him.

That economical little gem, "Marty," may cause a few second thoughts.

Here was a study of ordinary, unglamorous people going about their everyday business: superb acting, unobtrusive direction, Chayefsky's dialogue the best by a contemporary writer since Graham Greene's "Third Man."

Hollywood has spared no effort to ensure its own bankruptcy. Over the years it has moved away from the artistic aspirations of Griffith towards a progessivel more juvenile approach.

While the best movies in Europe have always been made by adults for other adults, in California the "product" was packaged to appeal to those with a mental age of 14. Now if my 32 14-year-olds are typical, this appeal is a dead letter.

At best Hollywood has bought good stories and turned them over to their own studio hacks to "streamline." At worst . . . ugh! Armed with a pre-digested scenario, the studio calls in its highly-paid actors, if you'll pardon the expression. It is interesting to note that the cinema, by itself, has produced only one actor or actress of note, the legendary Garbo.

They order this matter better in France, as Sterne says. [illegible] is looked upon as the most important ingredient in a dramatic performance. Good French—and Italian and British—movies show us first-class actors in parts which do not mock their abilities: with dialogue which is not a travesty of speech.

The directors — Clouzot, Reed, Ophuls, Renoir, Lean, de Sica, Rossellini, old man Clair and ever-youthful Cocteau—are interested only in that the film is not only a work of art but also a financial success.

The answer to Hollywood's prayers, then, is not bigger movies, gaudier Acnecolor, or 6-D—I doubt if it is even Aldous Huxley's "feelies;" it is a matter of hiring the best artists and then leaving them to it.

Preoccupation with "box-office" has ruined Hollywood artistically and, finally, financially. The Havana-garnished [illegible] remind me of the vast prehistoric monsters who once roamed the earth.

They were very, very big — mammoths, indeed — but their brain was very, very small. Where are they now?

Fabulous Week Coming Up

From "La Boheme" to "Tom Sawyer" to "High Button Shoes," this is going to be a most fabulous week for television.

It's the week of the Thanksgiving parades down south, of Canada's Grey Cup game, and here at home, of the probable start of the test pattern of CHEK-TV.

Taking the highlights in order, there's the NBC opera "La Boheme" and CBS's "See It Now" this afternoon. An entertainment-packed Sunday evening is described more fully in TV Talk today.

Tomorrow, CBS gets around to showing "Our Mr. Sun" on channels 11 and 12 at 7 p.m. —Frank Capra's four-year effort which stars Eddie Albert and the "McBoing-Boing" cartoons.

U.S. Steel Hour goes musical Wednesday with "Tom Sawyer," music, lyrics and book by Frank Luther of children's records fame. Stars include Jimmy Boyd and Rose Bampton.

CBC begins a fine variety series Wednesday evening at 10 p.m. Hume Cronyn is the host and the guests are Eartha Kitt, Dave Brubeck, Shirley Jones, Edmund Hockridge and the Royal Winnipeg Ballet.

Thursday morning, there are Thanksgiving parades from Detroit and New York. In the afternoon, the annual Longines-Wittnauer music festival, with Joe E. Brown and Duke Ellington. In the evening, on Playhouse 90, "Eloise" stars authoress Kay Thompson, Louis Jordan, Ethel Barrymore and Monty Woolley.

And Saturday! There's the Grey Cup at 9 a.m., a special retarded children's benefit at noon with Jack Benny, Frankie Laine and Peggy Lee, UBC basketball starting at 2 p.m. and at 9 p.m., Nanette Fabray comes back at last.

Sid Caesar's second ex-TV wife stars with Hal March and Don Ameche in "High Button Shoes," which may be the best thing all week.

That's not all, as of a week from today Maurice Evans starts his new season, with Joan Greenwood, in "Man and Superman."

* * *

Apart from the Grey Cup, sports highlights are three football games today (see TV Talk) and two more Thursday.

Best movies are "Little Fugitive" (channel 11, 11.15 tonight), "The Ghost Goes West" (channel 13, 7 p.m. Tuesday) and "Oil For The Lamps of China" (channel 12, 10.35 p.m. Friday).

Monday's Best

Our Mr. Sun looks like the best bet. (Channels 11 and 12, 7 p.m.)

Danny Thomas (channel 5) and Burns and Allen (channels 11 and 12) clash at 8 p.m., unfortunately.

On Robert Montgomery's show, William Bendix tries to break a personal jinx. (Channel 4, 9.30 p.m.)

Channel 4 sends word that Most Beautiful Girl in the World may start at 9 tonight, but speculation still is that Hal March's latest, wherein beauty contestants can win up to $250,000, will never see the light of day due to the fading popularity of big money shows.

Monday Sports

Famous Fights is on channel 12 at 6.30; Greatest Fights on channel 2 at 11.15.

Wrestling from Texas comes back to channel 12 at 8, with Seattle wrestling on channel 13 an hour later.

Family Affair

It was quite a night for the Smart family Friday when more than 100 members and wives of the Esquimalt and District Anglers' Association attended the annual wind-up at which prizes were presented. Ron Smart won trophies for the largest salmon, a 32-pound, eight-ounce spring, and the best aggregate poundage of 129 pounds, 15 ounces, while wife Helen weighed in the largest coho, a 13-pound, seven-ounce fish. To make things complete, vice-president Jim Smart, senior member of the family, received the Tip Top Tailor Trophy as the most valuable member of the club. Shown above are Ron and Helen Smart with their trophies.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

IT BEATS ME

FOR THE MOON: About the most hopeful statement of the year was issued the other day by Bob Osborne, manager of the Canadian Olympic team, who was quoted as saying that Canada may win as many as 10 gold medals at the Olympic Games this year.

Osborne's statement came at the same time that Fred Foot, coach of the Canadian track team, was saying that his athletes had a good chance to cop as many as three gold medals.

It would be pleasant if both Foot and Osborne turned out to be right but, off the records, their statements are only misleading optimism. There is no reason to believe anything else than that two gold medals would be an acceptable surprise and that anything better would be little short of amazing. In fact, it is quite possible, perhaps probable, that we won't get one unless it is in shooting or rowing.

Comparable times give us little chance in track and field events except for picking up the odd point here and there for placing an athlete in the first six. Given a break in the draw, our basketball team could also win some points for the unofficial team standing and we may have a cyclist good enough to be a point-winner. Our distaff swimmers have made some good times, even broken two world records, but almost every swimming record in the book will be smashed at this Olympiad unless too many countries pull out so it would be foolish to count heavily on more than a fair showing here.

It's only being realistic to think that for us, as usual, the main thing will be to have competed and it's not being loyal or patriotic to try and build up hopes which by every conceivable standard, are false hopes.

STILL IMPRESSED: An interested press-box onlooker at Friday night's Western Hockey League game between the Cougars and New Westminster Royals was a pleasant, stocky visitor from Copenhagen named Knud Lebech. Renewing acquaintance with, of course, Ove Witt, Knud tarried a day longer than planned so that he could have another look at our hockey.

Knud had his first look at Canadian hockey some eight or nine years ago as a left-winger for the Danish team which lost to Canada, 47-0, in the world hockey tournament. He blames the score partially on the Swedish team which, he says, asked the Canadians to beat the Danish team worse than it had beaten Sweden. It was at least some consolation that the Canadians couldn't quite make it. They had racked up Sweden, 49-0.

Still playing and, incidentally, a member of the current Danish champions, Knud thoroughly enjoyed the game and was obviously as impressed as ever with Canadian hockey, particularly commenting on those sizzling slap shots from the points and the harder checks. Proving himself an absolutely normal fan, about the first question he asked was "Do you think there will be any fights?"

RANDOM HARVEST: Fishing in Saanich Inlet is well worth trying. Limits of grilse haven't been too hard to get and anglers have been finding a fair amount of springs. Best combination has been the No. 3 McKnight and Tom Mack spoons and a pound of weight and 100 feet of line. . . . The Victoria West name is still in soccer. Although the club had to disband this season after 78 years, manager Ron Bland has taken over a Division IV team with Doug Hudlin as coach and fans can still give out with the old cry of "Come on, the Wests!" . . . Veteran soccer fans were saddened by the recent death of "Fat" Edmunds. One of the best, he played fullback for the great Nanaimo clubs which held the Dominion championship and toured New Zealand with the Canadian all-stars about 20 years ago. . . . Two young Victorians stationed in Europe with the RCAF, played yesterday in the annual East-West game at Thunderbird Stadium in Metz, France, sometimes called the European version of the Grey Cup. Both Corporal Harry Laidlaw, son of Harry Laidlaw of 529 View Royal Avenue, and LAC F. A. Corry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Corry, 908 Arundel, played for the West team. No score was available when this was written. . . . Gordie Fashoway set a new WHL record the other day when he potted his 243rd goal but he has a long way to go to catch Jim Middleton, an Okanagan Hockey League standout for years. Middleton boosted his league total past 400 goals Friday night by scoring three times for Kelowna. . . . Wrestling returns to Memorial Arena on Tuesday with a new promoter in charge, Larry Marshall having sold out to Mike Bulat, former Calgarian. Ken Kenneth, who had been reported as the likely new promoter, is said to be touring Europe with Gorgeous George, still bringing his corn to the bank. . . . Edmonton Eskimos proved conclusively last night they are still the best in the West and while most everyone outside of Edmonton would have preferred to see Saskatchewan Roughriders get another Grey Cup chance, it has to be admitted that the Eskimos with their possession game have the best chance of beating the pass-minded Montreal Alouettes. However, the guess made here at the start of the season that Alouettes would beat the Eskimos in the final still goes.

* * *

GUESSING DEPARTMENT: Rangers, Wings and Bruins in tonight's NHL hockey, Heaneys, Esquimalt and Butlers in today's district soccer. Tomorrow, the Cougars to best the Canucks. Batting average to date: At bat 367, hits 255, percentage .695.

Alouettes Outscore Outlucked Ti-Cats

MONTREAL (BUP)—The air-minded Montreal Alouettes earned their third straight trip to the Grey Cup today in a wide-open 48-41 game that gave them a 78-62 two-game total-point victory over the Hamilton Tigercats.

It was reported officially that Hamilton coach Jim Trimble protested the game following an interference call against the Tiger-Cats in the second quarter.

The officials gave the ball to Montreal at that point and Trimble played the rest of the game under protest.

	Montreal	Hamilton
First downs rushing	12	19
First downs passing	10	21
Yards gained rushing	213	205
Yards gained passing	344	543
Passes attempted	28	47
Passes completed	17	24
Passes intercepted by	5	2
Fumbles	6	5
Fumbles recovered (own)	1	2
Penalties in yards	0	69
Average distance punts	35.8	41.0

It was the highlight of a wild finale in which Hamilton suffered brutally by several obvious bad calls that played an important factor in the outcome.

Hamilton took the lead in the game three times, only to be turned back by the Alouettes and official rulings when they were close to catching up for the series.

In addition to the pass interference call in the second quarter, another was called against the Tigers in the final minute when Montreal's Bill Bewley fell down all by himself on the Hamilton five. On another occasion Montreal halfback Pat Abbruzzi, who scored three times, rambled 46 yards with a screen pass and the help of an illegal downfield block by Red O'Quinn.

Each team scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and Montreal forged ahead at halftime, leading 27-20 in the game and 51-41 in the total score.

Make Determined Bid

But Hamilton made a determined comeback in the third quarter when they scored three times on the strong right arm of quarterback Tony Curcillo. At that point the Tigers went ahead 41-34, but on the last play of the quarter, Abruzzi was downed on the line of scrimmage and tossed the ball to guard Herb Trawick who lumbered 14 yards for a touchdown.

Two interceptions by Hal Patterson and Jack Dwyer in the final quarter stalled Hamilton at crucial points. Then Montreal applied the clincher at 12.33 following the questionable interference call on the Hamilton five.

In all, 13 touchdowns were scored — seven by Montreal and six by Hamilton. Both the total points of 87 and the number of touchdowns far surpassed any previous playoff mark.

In addition to Abbruzi, the Big Four scoring leader with 20 touchdowns during regular season, other Montreal touchdowns were made by O'Quinn, Patterson, James and Trawick.

Curcillo outshone Etcheverry in the air, throwing five touchdown passes to four by the Alouette quarterback. Hal Wag-goner, the most brilliant of several outstanding pass receivers on the field, caught a pair of 50-yard scoring passes and another for 28 yards. Curcillo also hit Cookie Gilchrist and Paul Dekker with touchdown aerials as he completed 24 of 27 passes for 543 yards.

Tom Hugo of Montreal and Jim Norman of Hamilton were thrown out of the bruising game for fighting in the second period.

Awesome Eskimos Rout Riders, 51-7

EDMONTON (BUP) — Quarterback Don Getty and halfback Jackie Parker lifted the mighty Edmonton Eskimos to one of the great displays of the Canadian football year Saturday night as the national champions smashed the Saskatchewan Roughriders, 51-7, and earned the West's berth in the Grey Cup final for the third successive season.

Seven thunderous touchdowns, three of them by Parker off deadly passes from Getty, carried coach Frank Ivy's indomitable titlists to their third straight western crown against a badly-shaken Saskatchewan team which never recovered from a first-minute fumble.

A strongly partisan crowd of 22,451 persons, a record for the prairies, sat in at Edmonton's Clarke Stadium for the game which broke a 1-1 deadlock and gave a hectic best-of-three final to the Eskimos by a 2-1 edge.

Bitter-cold temperatures gripped the field and a fierce north wind played havoc with the kickers, but the wintry conditions had no ill effects on Ivy's fired-up champions.

They banged into the lead just 37 seconds after their opening kick-off was fumbled on the Saskatchewan 10-yard line by Roughrider-end Doug Killoh. By the end of the first quarter they had scored three converted touchdowns and a single to take a 22-1 lead.

At halftime they were in front 23-1, and in the last two quarters they added four touchdowns to turn it into a rout.

Adam Replaces Tripucka

It was a prohibitive 37-7 for the Esks at the end of the third period and in the final 15 minutes it didn't matter that coach Frank Filchok pulled a dejected Frank Tripucka out of his Saskatchewan quarterback slot and replaced him with youthful Ron Adam.

The victory gave the Eskimos their fourth western championship in five years and ensured a replay in Toronto's Varsity Stadium next Saturday of the Grey Cup final of the past two years. Once again the all-powerful Edmontonians were due to meet the Montreal Alouettes in the national final.

Six of the seven Eskimo touchdowns tonight were converted by end Joe Mobra, and the champions, who have whipped the Alouettes in both their Grey Cup meetings so far, added three more points on kicks to the deadline.

Fullback Johnny Bright powered his way through the middle of the line for two touchdowns. Normie Kwong, the famed China Clipper, and Bright's twin-fullback running mate, got one and end Bill Walker added another.

Walker's came off a 12-yard, first quarter, pass from Getty, Giving the 23-year-old University of Western Ontario quarterback a brilliant total of four touchdown passes for the night. Parker added two of the singles, with punts that took advantage of the icy wind, and Walker booted for the other one.

Statistics Tell the Story

The overwhelming Edmonton superiority was reflected in the statistics and was sharp and dramatic contrast to the first two games of the round. The hungry Riders, bidding for their first western championship in five years, had won the opener in Regina a week ago with a pulsating 23-22 come-from-behind triumph.

The Esks had squared things with a 20-12 decision in the Clarke stadium last Monday night, after once again encountering a rock-ribbed Roughrider formation that literally fought them into the ground.

But the Riders never were in the running Saturday night. Tripucka, normally the West's best passer, had the worst night of his Canadian football career. He failed dismally to get his team moving and was completely luckless in desperate attempts to mount an offensive on his passing arm.

The challengers from the wheat country were able to click on only seven of 15 pass attempts, for a total of 121 yards. Their high-powered running backfield of Bobby Marlow, Ken Carpenter and Alex Bravo was held to 95 yards rushing and over the route they were limited to a meagre 10 first downs. By contrast, Getty clicked on 10 of 12 pass attempts for four touchdowns and 163 yards, to spearhead an Edmonton attack that rolled for 237 yards overland and racked up 24 first downs.

Four interceptions by Edmonton and Killoh's opening fumble played crucial roles in the dimensions of the score. Edmonton halfback Bob Kimoff was the hero on two of the five occasions.

The best the Roughriders could muster in return was a single in the first quarter and an unconverted touchdown, when it didn't matter, in the third. Veteran halfback Sully Glasser got the major, on one of the rare occasions when Tripucka was able to find his target, with a 10-yard pass.

Queens Capture Playoff

KINGSTON (CP) — Jocko Thompson kicked a 27-yard field goal in the final minute of play to give Queen's University Golden Gaels a 4-2 victory over University of Toronto Blues Saturday in their sudden-death playoff for the Senior Intercollegiate Football Championship.

Thompson's field goal gave the Golden Gaels their second successive college title. They beat the Blues, 18-0, last year in a play-off to win their first championship in 17 years.

The injury-riddled Blues today appeared to have the game won in the dying minutes but little Ron Stewart, the Gaels' sparkling running halfback, caught fire to lead the fighting Queen's team back from the brink of defeat.

Urry to Head Lawn Bowlers

A. L. Urry of the Lake Hill Club has been elected president of the Greater Victoria District Lawn Bowling Association at the annual general meeting held last week.

Others elected to office were Stan Baker of Canadian Pacific, first vice-president; Ernest Jolly of the Victoria Club, second vice-president; and George Dixon and Tom Menzies, auditors.

Honorary president will be Tom Elliott of the Beacon Hill green while George Bett of the Canadian Pacific has been appointed secretary-treasurer for another term.

Cougars Shut Out by Royals— Try Canucks Here Tomorrow

Canucks Lose Again

Third Line Sparks Amerks to Victory

Seattle Americans got the scoring out of their third line last night at Brandon and handed the Regals their first defeat in 10 games on home ice, 5-2, to retain their five-point lead over New Westminster Royals in the Western Division of the Western Hockey League.

Meanwhile, Vancouver Canucks slipped just when it seemed they had the points in the bag and lost in overtime, 4-3, to the Stampeders at Calgary.

Americans wound up with an even split of their first four-game tour of the Prairies while Canucks lost three, won once.

NEW THREAT

When it hasn't been the Guyle Fonteyne line which was beating opposing goalies, the Americans were getting goals from Ed Dorohoy-Bruce Lea-Alex Kuzma threesome. Last night, it was the Rudy Filion-George Senick-Bart Bradley combination which carried the mail.

Senick scored his sixth and seventh goals and assisted once. Filion had a goal and an assist and Bradley had a goal and three assists as he figured on Seattle's first four goals.

Fielder got the other counter for the winners, on a play with his linemates.

Regals had given up only 17 goals while winning nine and tying one of 10 previous games on their small ice surface. They held their own fairly well but Francis got in front of 32 of 34 shots while Lucien Dechene blocked 35 of 40.

FINNEY STARS

Sid Finney, Calgary's one-man game, put the damper on Canucks, who were only 63 seconds away from the points when Stamps tied it up while Bill Wylie was sitting in the penalty box.

The veteran centre got Calgary's first goal three seconds from the end of the first period to tie it at 1-1.

Canucks scored twice in the second period and were still nursing the two-goal lead with seven and a half minutes left. Then, Steve Wituik cut the lead in two and Finney set up Doc Couture for the tying goal.

Finney wasted no time in the extra period, deflecting a shot by Doug Barkley past Ray Mikulan after 22 seconds.

NEW WESTMINSTER—Victoria Cougars lost their chance in the first period here Saturday night when they couldn't get the puck past a brilliant Bev Bentley, under pressure most of the way as New Westminster Royals played shorthanded four different times.

All even after the scoreless first period, the Royals got a goal in the second period, added two more in a hurry early in the third period, and coasted to a 3-0 win.

It was the fourth straight setback for the Victorians, who now trail the second-place Royals by nine points instead of the one point which would have been the case had Colin Kilburn's club won the home-and-home series which started with a 4-2 defeat in Victoria, Friday.

Next game: Monday, Vancouver at VICTORIA.

Cougars get a chance to move close to the third-place Canucks in games Monday and Tuesday. The clubs play here tomorrow night and in Vancouver on Tuesday. Four points would leave the Cougars only two points out of third place.

MISS CHANCES

Cougars had three man-advantage chances in the first half of the first period, and while they managed to get 11 shots away at Bentley, most of them dangerous, they couldn't get the puck in the nets.

Peppery little Arnie Schmautz broke the scoreless deadlock at 13.07 of the second period when he batted in the rebound off a shot by Ollie Dorohoy.

Dorohoy was back with a pass for rookie Denny Olson early in the third period and a partially-screened shot whizzed by Pelletier. Just over two minutes later, Olson drove in his second goal on a play with Arlo Goodwin and the Royals took no more chances as they not only protected their lead but gave Bentley his second shutout.

THIRD SHUTOUT

It was the third time that the Cougars have failed to score this season, and it happened in a game when they held their opponents to 22 shots at Pelletier, who had been averaging 37 stops a game previously.

Both clubs carried their sticks high and play was rough, particularly in the first period, which saw a clash between Victoria rookie Bob Beckett and ex-Cougar Pete Durham. Both got major penalties while Gordie Fashoway, who was also mixed up in the russle, drew two minutes.

Sailors Lose Opener In Island Puck Loop

NANAIMO (Special) — Nanaimo Clippers, paced by the three-goal performance of playing-coach Don Ashbee, came from behind to down Victoria Navy, 9-5, here last night for their third straight win in the Island-Mainland Amateur Hockey League.

Clippers trailed, 5-4, after six minutes of the third period, then rattled in five unanswered goals as Navy faltered in the stretch. It was the toughest test yet for the Clippers, who had little trouble getting past the defence but were stopped for two periods by the fine netminding of Tom Cain.

Cain stopped a total of 55 shots in the game, 23 of them in the third period.

U.S. Athletes Continue Show of Games Power

Jack Davis of the United States shattered the world's record for the 120-yard high hurdles and team-mate Arnie Sowell cracked John Landy's Australian mark for the half-mile event Saturday as records continued to fall in pre-Olympic track and field action.

As was the case in a meet early last week, it was the powerful American team which dominated the show. U.S. athletes grabbed the first three places in the hurdle and 100-yard events. Parry O'Brien again eclipsed the 60-foot mark in the shot put and an American quartet equalled the Australian record of 41.5 seconds in the 440-yard relay.

Davis was clocked in 13.3 seconds in his specialty, cutting two-tenths of a second off Dick Attlesey's world mark set in 1950. Leamon King, ace U.S. sprinter, tied the world record for the 100-yard dash with a 9.3 clocking in the final.

Black Hawks Break Out

Bruins Boost Lead Over Wings

Boston Bruins ran their undefeated streak to eight games and boosted their National Hockey League lead to two points last night when they scored with only six seconds left to gain a 4-4 tie with the New York Rangers.

Meanwhile, Montreal Canadiens bounced the second-place Detroit Red Wings, 6-2, and Chicago Black Hawks finally found a scoring punch as they whacked Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-3.

Rangers, who had lost six in a row, took the lead three times but couldn't hang on as their winless streak was extended to an eighth game. The Blueshirts, who started with a rush this season, haven't won since Oct. 24.

Real Chevrefils lead the Boston attack with three goals. His first two tied the score at 1-1 and 2-2 and his third gave Bruins a 3-2 lead.

George Sullivan tied it at 3-3 midway through the third period and Larry Popein gave Rangers the lead for the third time at 14.14.

SAWCHUK PULLED

With only 28 seconds left, Bruins yanked goalie Terry Sawchuk for a sixth attacker and the move paid off as Jerry Toppazzini took a pass from Doug Mohns at 19.54 to give Bruins a point split.

At Montreal a crowd of 14,475 saw rookie Andre Pronovost score twice and all-star defenceman Doug Harvey got his first goal of the season as Canadiens contained all of the Wings except Gordie Howe, who scored both of their goals.

Canadiens had a 4-0 lead before Wings could score, and then it took succesive penalties to Harvey and Tom Johnson before Gerry McNeil yielded. Montreal fired 41 shots at Glenn Hall while Detroit could only get 25 shots at McNeil.

FIRST OF SEASON

Hawks, who had scored only 22 goals in their first 15 games and never more than four in any one game, were led by Jack McIntyre, who broke out with his first four goals of the season.

McIntyre's second and third goals broke the game open in the second period, boosting the Chicago lead to 5-2. His last came midway through the third period after Leafs had pulled to 5-2. His last came midway through the third period after Leafs had pulled to 5-3 and put the game out of Toronto's reach.

Sharing honors with McIntyre was goalkeeper Al Rollins. Leafs, who did most of the shooting while Hawks did most of the scoring, peppered Rollins with 40 shots. At the other end, rookie Ed Chadwick fanned on six out of 27 Chicago shots.

Rose Bowl Rematch Probable Between Oregon State, Iowa

Barring the totally unexpected, Iowa and Oregon State will meet in a rematch in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's Day. Iowa, which has lost only once this season, opened its campaign with a 14-13 victory over Oregon State.

The two clubs both won yesterday, Iowa capping a great comeback with a second key victory in as many Saturdays with a 6-0 upset of Ohio State while Oregon State sneaked by unexpectedly tough Idaho, 14-10.

Iowa's great line, which held Minnesota scoreless the week before, stopped Ohio State cold as the Hawkeyes made an unconverted third-quarter touchdown stand up.

Ohio State went into the game with a record of 17 straight Big Ten victories and a chance for an unprecedented third straight conference championship. The Buckeyes were ineligible for the Rose Bowl game but were after the title. However, they couldn't dent the Iowa defence, making only 100 yards rushing as against a team average of 307 yards for previous games this season.

Iowa needed the victory as Minnesota did its part to keep a Bowl bid possible by knocking off Michigan State, 14-13, in another upset. Now, if Michigan can beat Ohio State next Saturday, Iowa will also be undisputed Big Ten champions. Michigan warmed up for the tussle by plastering Indiana, 49-26.

CERTAIN CHOICE

Oregon State is a certain Coast Conference choice even if it should lose to Oregon on Saturday. Stanford, the only other team with a chance, took a 34-13 clobbering from a potentially-good Washington team which hit its peak yesterday.

Oregon beat Southern California, 7-0, and Washington State bested California, 14-13, as northern universities made it a sweep over California schools.

Greatest individual performance of the day was the 43-point spree by Jimmy Brown, who led Syracuse to a 61-7 conquest of Colgate.

Paul Hornung scored all three touchdowns as Notre Dame ended a five-game losing streak by beating North Carolina, 21-14.

Wins Aussie Meet

MELBOURNE (AP) — Gary Player, 21-year-old South African from Johannesburg, won Australia's biggest golf tournament by six strokes Saturday with a 72-hole total of 280.

Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City, an early leader in the $22,500 Apol tournament, finished second.

UBC Runner Breaks Record; Vic High Team Wins Trophy

Jim Moore of the University of British Columbia established a new course record in yesterday's annual Royal Roads invitational cross-country race, covering the 4.2 miles in 20 minutes, 34 seconds to lead a field of 65 runners.

Moore, former Victoria High and Victoria College runner, shaved one minute, 33 seconds off the old record which was established in 1953. Teammate Jack Burnett, last year's winner, finished second about 50 yards behind Moore, while Ian Fraser of Victoria High School was third.

CADET TEAM THIRD

On a team basis, the road race was won by Victoria High's "A" squad, giving Gordy Hartley's runners the Vancouver Island cross-country championship. UBC placed second; HMCS Venture "A" team was third; HMCS Naden "A" squad was fourth, and the Vic High "B" team placed fifth.

Members of the winning team were Fraser, Lawrence, Valient, Guy Price, Ed Pomeroy, Peter Jubb and Barry Hagen.

Fraser jumped into an early lead in the race and held it until the half-way point where he was overtaken on one of the steep hills by the two UBC runners. Moore, Burnett and Fraser ran in that order the rest of the way.

At the conclusion of the race, Fraser was presented with the Admiral Nelles Trophy, awarded annually to the winning team.

Reach Cup Semis

Tillicums Pick Right Time For First Soccer Triumph

Tillicums, who haven't won a game in five starts in the Victoria and District Football League, eliminated league-leading Gorge Hotel, 4-0, at Royal Athletic Park to enter the semi-finals of the annual McGavin Cup knockout competition.

Tillicums will meet Butler Brothers in a semi-final match Nov. 31. Brodie's Bakery and Punjab United clash in the other semi-final next Saturday at Royal Athletic Park. All proceeds from the competition go to the league's injured players' fund.

PLAYER EJECTED

Gorge and Tillicums battled through a scoreless first half with the winners content to play defensive ball and wait for the breaks. The big one came with 10 minutes left in the first half when referee Ray Hewett ejected Don Hendry of the Hotelmen for rough play.

Gorge was forced to play the rest of the game a man short, and the disadvantage proved too much for the Hotelmen to overcome.

Outside right Joe Gobet finally cracked the score sheet for Tillicums at 25 minutes of the second half after a stubborn Gorge defence had held off an almost continuous Tillicum attack.

Ced Robb got the second goal eight minutes later on a three-way play with Gobet and Tim Walker. Walker scored minutes later on a pass from Willie McMillan and Robb added the final goal at the 47 minutes.

The game was a replay of a match in which the teams played to a scoreless draw after a half hour of overtime.

Three league matches are scheduled today. Esquimalt plays Punjab United at Macdonald Park; Butler Brothers clash with Brodie's Bakery at Heywood Avenue Park, and Heaneys take on Canadian Scottish at Central Park.

All games start at 2 p.m.

City Teams Trounced In Exhibition Rugby

University of B.C. Thunderbirds, always a provincial rugby threat, turned in a brilliant performance at Windsor Park yesterday in swamping the Victoria College Vikings, 44-3, in one of two exhibition matches involving city teams.

Oak Bay Wanderers held powerful Meralomas to a 3-3 tie in the first half, but faded in the second session to drop a 21-8 decision at Vancouver's Brockton Point oval.

UBC, taking advantage of a downfield wind in the first half, rolled to a 25-0 lead and continued to carry the play in the second half. Barber picked up Vikings' only try.

Dick Hales, on a 25-yard run, and Rod McCallum of Meralomas traded first-half tries at Vancouver. But Neil Henderson crossed the line twice and booted three converts, and Frank Baine and McCallum each scored once for the winners in the second half.

Russ Chambers provided Oak Bay's second-half try, gathering in a cross kick by Keith Gold and scampering 10 yards for the score. Dick Ellis converted.

Totems Lose Thriller To Vancouver College

Victoria High School Totems staged a last-quarter rally that fell just short, at the Victoria High gym last night, and lost their second basketball game of the season, 52-48, to the powerful Vancouver College Gaels.

Totems, who stayed within striking distance of the Gaels all the way, pulled to within one point, at 49-48, with seconds remaining, but the Gaels came back to make a foul shot and a basket for their winning margin.

Porky Andrews' Totems, who were drubbed, 79-40, by the Vic High Grads a week ago, were a greatly-improved club last night.

Rangy first-year guard Dave Skillings topped the Totems with 15 points and played an outstanding game on defence. High man for the Gaels was Petty with 25 points.

In the preliminary game Jake Jacobson netted 27 points as Morrison's Service swamped Chemainus, 84-45.

Scorers follow:

Vancouver College—Petty 25, Cameron 2, Oster 4, Dumont 4, Guidi, Lasko 6, Beale 7, King, Brunelle 4, Le Clair 2. Total—52.

Hotspurs Beaten, Tumble to Second; Manchester U Regains Soccer Lead

LONDON (Reuters) — Tottenham Hotspur tumbled Saturday after a brief week at the top of English Soccer League's first division as it was soundly whipped 4-1 by Sheffield Wednesday.

Manchester United climbed back into top spot with a 3-2 win over Leeds.

Tottenham never was in the running as former England international Albert Quixall and outside-right Alan Finney socked home goals to give Sheffield a 2-0 halftime lead. Finney booted in two more goals in the second half before Tommy Harmer scored Tottenham's lone point.

Inside-forward Billy Whelan scored twice and newcomer Bobby Charlton once as Manchester scored twice more. The match almost ended in a draw as John Charles converted a penalty for one goal but a later second-half goal was disallowed.

STARS FOR NEW CLUB

England goalkeeper Reg Matthews, transferred to Chelsea on Friday from Coventry City, found himself with his new club and played a big part in its 4-1 win over Luton Town.

The first round proper of the Football Association Cup—the stage at which third division clubs enter the battle—provided fewer upsets than usual.

Only four non-league clubs advanced to the next round at the expense of league teams.

Bishop Auckland beat Tranmere Rovers 2-1, Weymouth defeated Shrewsbury Town 1-0, Hereford United beat Aldershot 3-2 and Bedford Town tied mighty first division Arsenal last year but was beaten in a playoff.

Three of the closest games of the Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association season were played at Memorial Arena yesterday, as all six peewee division teams saw action.

Senators won their fifth straight game to increase their league lead over Bombers, but got their stiffest test yet before edging Capitals, 5-4. Bombers, meanwhile, dropped three points off the pace as they played to a 4-4 draw with Flyers.

High-scoring forward Paul Bion netted four of the Senators' goals, Bruce Clark got the other and Dave Woodley assisted on three. Capitals' scorers were Wayne Anderson, Jim Clark, Dave McHaffie and Ed Carley.

Don Wiggens fired three goals and Pete Watt scored one as Flyers collected their first point of the season. Larry Johnston tied the score for Bombers with two minutes remaining after Allen Dalhousie had scored twice and Don Wilson once.

In the other peewee fixture, Royals shaded Maroons, 3-2, on goals by Bob Knezacky, John Davis and Dennis Taylor.

Heaneys Surprise; Draw with Eagles

Three inter-divisional matches were played in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association yesterday, and the highlight of action was the scoreless draw between Heaneys of Division IV and Eagles of Division III at Beacon Hill Park.

The younger Heaneys' club had much the better of the play throughout and came within an ace of upsetting the senior division Eagles. Heaneys missed what appeared a sure goal in the first half when Bill Duckworth's shot hit the underside of the crossbar and bounced out.

The two other games yesterday were one-sided affairs. The powerful Fuller's Clippers division III club blanked Victoria West, division IV, 6-0, at Topaz Avenue Park on two goals apiece by Don Elphick, Joe Stebeck and Larry Fletcher.

Eagles of division V trounced ANAF Vets (VI), 7-0, at Hollywood Park. Jim Ackinclose scored three goals, Jim Clark got two and Larry McCann and Bill Wirtanen scored one apiece.

Premium Dollar … … Bad for Canada

Squeeze on Exporters

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

One of [illegible] factors [illegible] is the fact that as Canada's balance of international trade [illegible] to the export side the Canadian dollar [illegible] to strengthen [illegible].

[illegible] position should be accompanied by a fall in the value of the Canadian dollar. In this way Canada would receive [illegible] exports and pay less for its imports.

[illegible]

capital [illegible] are offering high rates [illegible] at bargain prices and U.S. and European investors are jumping at [illegible] offered.

Result — a world-wide demand for Canadian dollars.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just released the figures for the third [illegible] $[illegible] highest [illegible] any quarter since 1950 while the $554,000,000 total for the first nine months is an all-time record.

There are no signs that the urge to invest in Canada is about to slacken. Indeed the reverse. The mess in the Middle East can only intensify European interest in Canadian oil and shortage of energy in Britain and Europe heightened by the oil situation is likely to attract more money in Canadian uranium prospects.

So Canadian exporters having to cut their prices to meet the unfavorable currency exchange are not likely to find any immediate relief from a weakening Canadian dollar exchange.

In the end when [illegible] foreign investments in Canada reach the pay off stage in handsome dividends and bonuses, the drag on the Canadian dollar will be the other way round and a better chance of a levelling of the trade balance may exist.

But to those exporters to whom the premium dollar is an over-energetic bear's hug the wait may be cumbersome.

'Food Factors'

Human Factory Requires Fuel

This is another article in a series provided by the Victoria-Esquimalt Union Board [illegible] as a public service.

A scientific knowledge of the part that various foods play in keeping healthy bodies is better understood today than [illegible].

The factory [illegible] our body requires certain articles in the daily intake for growth, for repair of wear and tear, for fuel to keep as energy and heat and for replacement of fluids lost. Each article has its own specific place in the maintenance of optimal health.

[illegible]

A common illness of children is anaemia. This means a decrease in the red cells of the blood and the number of red blood cells circulating in the body. Such a decrease may be rectified by sufficient minerals, iron and copper, vitamin B, a very complex vitamin which stimulates the production of red blood cells and sufficient protein from meat, fish, fowl, eggs and milk to furnish materials in the bone marrow to manufacture red blood cells.

[illegible]

are prone to [illegible] in teeth formed from insufficient [illegible] elements [illegible] D and fluorine.

Analysis has proved that the enamel of teeth contains more fluorine in the form of calcium fluorine than any other part of the body, containing 95 per cent of the chemical salt. If this is so, then any deficiency in the essentials to proper formation must result in thin, inferior enamel.

Foods containing the essentials for good tooth formation are eggs, fish, meat, milk, vegetables and fruits. It must be remembered that in all foods from the earth, the minerals must be in the earth to be absorbed [illegible] has been [illegible].

U.S. Relaxes Order

Gas Pipeline Fed From Both Ends

By HARRY YOUNG

Shareholders of Pacific North West Pipeline have recently received a remarkable account of the company's task in bringing natural gas to the Pacific Northwest.

[illegible] in the United States.

The unusual feature about PNWP shared by no other pipeline to date is that it is fed from its two extremities so that the smallest diameter pipe used is towards its centre.

[illegible] natural gas fields of New Mexico and Colorado at its southern end.

[illegible] Pacific North West Pipeline [illegible] Canadian sources.

Whether this was a good ruling or just a political move is a question for the individual to settle but it was the one which finally quenched any hopes the Canadian-owned West Coast Transmission had of providing and selling natural gas direct in the United States.

Now however the situation has changed. The U.S. need for [illegible] Federal Power Commission as [illegible].

[illegible] the area to be served [illegible] have no other source of supply.

This is a big triumph for the Trans-Canada Pipeline Company which has all along hoped that the U.S. Federal Power Commission would permit it to sell gas along the International Boundary to the many communities in the boundary States which have no other source of gas supply.

One such U.S. company, Midwestern Gas Transmission [illegible] 204,000,000 cubic feet of Canadian gas for distribution in South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. If this is allowed, Trans-Canada financing problems will automatically end.

Stage Set For Boom In Uranium

By HARRY YOUNG

If international affairs had not scared off the investing public in the last few weeks, there would have been a boom or at least a distinctly upward movement in uranium stocks.

With the opening of Britain's first nuclear power station at Calder Hall and the [illegible] power in [illegible] the stage is being set for such a move.

The Canadian government, in extending its contract deadline dates for those companies who have been delayed in their progress towards production through tight supplies, has also helped the market's uranium sentiments.

It is apparent that uranium is [illegible] out of the range of speculation into the realm of production and income.

One of the most interesting redemptions of recent years has been that of the International Nickel Company of Canada to pay off its outstanding 7% preferred stock.

This $5 stock which dates back to 1902 has had a long and interesting life. The International Nickel Company could have redeemed it at any time at a premium of 20% on its par value.

The redemption to be made cash on Feb. 1, 1957 will cost the company $31,[illegible] which [illegible] the Canadian federal tax on the premium.

Modern Romance

Univac-Mated Couple to Wed

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A mechanical Cupid named [illegible] in front of millions of TV viewers, fell in love and decided to get married.

This atomic age engagement was announced last night on Art Linkletter's television show.

As if the problem of picking a mate wasn't complicated enough, contestants have been publicly doing this on the program. The system sounds unnerving to some viewers and light-headed to some critics and most of the contestants take the idea as a good way to get on television or win quiz money.

But not Barbara [illegible], a 23-year-old switchboard operator who moved here two years ago from Chicago and John [illegible], 28, an advertising manager and another stranger to town from Detroit. On the NBC TV program last night they confessed the robot was right . . . they're engaged.

Barbara and John were among 5,000 persons who answered an ad in the Los Angeles newspapers asking for [illegible] the contestants for a quiz show. Both claim they were more interested in the [illegible] money than a mate.

They were sent questionnaires asking answers to: "Do you prefer [illegible]?" [illegible]

The likes and dislikes of [illegible] persons were [illegible] the [illegible] and the machine [illegible] up with [illegible] pairs of [illegible] matched contestants. The other couples on the program have not hit it off romantically. But Linkletter says it was "phenomenal" when Barbara and John met.

"They fell in love right in front of our eyes," the exuberant master of ceremonies said. "It was like a controlled lab experiment. Right from the start birds were singing. It was the most wonderful thing in all my experience."

When John [illegible] Barbara [illegible] Barbara says she was [illegible] to get [illegible] second [illegible] which Linkletter [illegible].

Black Leads Labor

By Colonist Staff Reporter

VANCOUVER—The new B.C. Federation of Labor yesterday chose a [illegible] leadership which overwhelmingly favors the CCF party and policies.

The tightly organized former CCL delegates voting as a block, not only managed to have the officers informally allocated to their own group elected by acclamation but also cast the deciding votes on positions allotted to former TLC men.

Elected president was William Black, business agent for Hospital Employees Local 180 of Vancouver, a former TLC union.

With support of former CCL members he received 259 votes against 85 for George Bengough of Vancouver Carpenters.

Officers elected by acclamation from CCL were Joseph Morris, Local 1-80 IWA, first vice-president; Robert Smeal, national representative in Victoria of the International Brotherhood of Railway Employees, third vice-president; and George Home, secretary of the old B.C. Federation of Labor, secretary-treasurer.

Second vice-president is Victor Migley, International representative for the carpenters in Victoria for 10 years and co-chairman of the convention.

Mr. Smeal was president of the CCL Victoria Labor Council from 1948 to 1954 and has been national representative of the CBRE in Victoria for 10 years.

They're Making History

Sharing the gavel at the historic merger convention of the new B.C. Federation of Labor which concludes today in Vancouver are Victor Midgley of Victoria, international representative of the Carpenters' Union and Dan Radford of Vancouver. Mr. Midgley was vice-president of the B.C. Trade Union Congress which is linking with the old B.C. Federation of Labor, formerly headed by Mr. Radford.

Cold Snap Feared By Firewood Men

But Coal Adequate

The wood fuel shortage here has eased up somewhat, due to prolonged mild weather, but a cold snap could soon make supplies acutely short.

One outstanding aspect of the shortage has been that several individuals have gone out cutting wood to make extra money and this has helped add to supplies.

Flower is Missing

Anyone See a Skunk?

There's a deep sense of loss in the Rushton home at [illegible] Avenue.

"We just feel lost without our skunk," said 12-year-old Judy Rushton. "Flower has been gone since Thursday night."

Flower, a seven-month-old female skunk, is really Mrs. Marion Rushton's pet, Judy said. "Mother has wanted a skunk for a pet for a long time so we bought one from people who raise them in New Westminster," she continued.

Judy's brother, [illegible] Gerry, reported Flower's absence to police Friday, but the animal hasn't been found yet.

"We let her out every night for a run, but Thursday night she didn't come back. She's a wonderful pet, almost like one of the family, and we hope we get her back."

Charles [illegible] Rushton wasn't available for comment, but Judy said her father was fond of the pet, too.

Businessmen Agree:

Everybody Else Gets Off Lightly

After studying Ald. Donald Smith's proposals for trades licence revision, owners and managers of city business houses seem to be agreed on only two things:

1. Their individual business is bearing a full if not too heavy burden of taxation, and

2. The other fellow is getting away with all the special tax concessions.

Most of the small business firms interviewed by The Daily Colonist last night sided with Ald. Smith in the belief there is a considerable degree of [illegible] under city trade licences.

Some of the bigger firms agreed there was [illegible] because they weren't given the concessions granted [illegible] to other companies and stores.

But there were indications that a public hearing on the matter [illegible] when called will be well attended.

[illegible]

Tom G. Denny, partner in Standard Furniture, said only that he is in "complete accord" with a statement made earlier by businessman H. R. Stephen that city business is "to a large extent subsidizing the taxes paid by the residential taxpayer."

[illegible]

William G. Heaney, president of Heaney's Cartage and Storage, said: "As far as our own business is concerned, I feel we are taxed to the limit now."

OUT OF SIGHT

He said there were businesses doing bigger dollar business which were not assessed as much as his firm because they were relatively hidden from constant public attention.

Mr. Heaney said the collectors don't "press for full collections" from some companies while hitting others, under the same type of licence, for the full amount.

Former Alderman Edward Wilson [illegible] said Ald. Smith certainly is to be commended for pointing out the [illegible] apparent fact that the small business operator is paying more in taxes in proportion than the owner of the bigger firm.

STORES HIT

He struck at department stores as getting away with the most under current licensing bylaws.

"Each department store is actually running a number of different stores of all types, but in the same premises," he said. "They should pay taxes for each department equivalent to the taxes paid by individual firms engaged in the same business."

Service station owner Alfred F. Morgan of Morgan & Tucker said inequality in taxation of service stations is probably the best example of a need for revision.

"We feel our own tax load is pretty stiff for an average service station operation," he said. "[illegible] it is not [illegible] with us as with some of the smaller stations."

It was his belief, he said, that special concessions were being made to some firms just to establish and maintain a business here.

Artist Drawn To Village Of Palette

By NOEL ANTHONY
North American Newspaper Alliance

PARIS — It must be nice to have money [illegible] Bernard Buffet, the [illegible] painter [illegible] all the pictures he [illegible]. He was "living [illegible]" on begged [illegible] when we first knew him in 1947.

Now he's [illegible] given up his [illegible] near Paris and moved lock, stock and Rolls-Royce to a Louis XIII castle in sunny Aix-en-Provence.

Included in the purchase price are a deserted village and an abandoned church.

Why did Buffet buy the place? "When I saw the name of the village I just couldn't resist it," he [illegible]. "It is called Palette."

Dancing Toward Fame With Sadler's Wells

BY DEE LAVOIE

LONDON — A slightly built 17-year-old who has every chance of becoming one of the world's great ballerinas curled up in an armchair in her Kensington bed-sitting room and discussed her career in the matter-of-fact tone of a girl talking about her secretarial course.

[illegible]

Also, she was one of four dancers chosen by Peter Wright of the Opera Ballet to [illegible]

[illegible] of the glittering ballet world.

Four friends who drove a Cadillac from Windsor, Ont., to a Victoria dealer via the United States are pictured above from left to right: Betty Davis, East Angus, Que., Jean Easter, daughter of Rev. G. E. and Mrs. Easter, Quadra Street, Carol Pope, Hamilton, Ont., and Shirley Alven, Palermo, Ont. The three girls from the East are guests of Miss Easter until Monday when they will leave for their homes. Miss Easter and Miss Pope were classmates at McMaster University School of Nursing, Hamilton, Ont., and received their BSc. of Nursing this October, both scholarship winners. Miss Easter will join the staff of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Toronto at the first of the year. Miss Alven and Miss Davis have recently returned from Bermuda where they were on the staff of the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital. En route to Victoria the girls visited the [illegible] in Chicago, Boys Town, Omaha, Neb., Painted Desert and Petrified Forest, New Mexico, Hoover Dam, Arizona, Golden Nugget and Desert Inn, Las Vegas, and Disneyland in Los Angeles. They also attended Montevaino's debut in Los Angeles.—(Photo by Bud Kinsman.)

She Writes Pope's Diary

By JEAN PURCELL

VATICAN CITY. Among the [illegible] visits made by Secretary of State [illegible] Dulles [illegible] to the Vatican in the fall of [illegible] He was [illegible]

[illegible] the Pope's [illegible] chatting in English which His Holiness speaks [illegible] Both were [illegible] of a [illegible] [illegible] the chamber opened and a short [illegible] woman [illegible] Nun's gray habit entered. With [illegible] she [illegible]

[illegible]

"[illegible]," she [illegible].

The Pope replied gently [illegible] German.

"Good, good, Mother Pasqualina, I'll be right there before the soup cools."

But the little woman stood her ground, in the unmistakable attitude of one who has no intention of budging until she has had her way. The Pope sighed, rose, and with a wry smile observed to Mr. Dulles, "Theres no power on earth that can move the good Mother Pasqualina once the soup is on the table."

Other distinguished visitors [illegible] Mr. Dulles have [illegible]

[illegible]

Mother Pasqualina first cooked for the Pope shortly after the First World War. He was then Bishop Pacelli, papal nuncio to Germany, and the meeting was at Einsiedlen, a 1,000 year old Benedictine abbey in Switzerland, where he had taken refuge from communist uprisings.

She had been sent from Menzingen to serve as cook for distinguished visitors to the abbey. With [illegible] she cooked according to the [illegible] of her religious order. She was not what one would call a fancy cook but her simple fare suited Pacelli's ascetic taste.

Pacelli was sent to Berlin in 1922 as papal ambassador to the Weimar Republic. When the nunciature palace was completed, Menzingen was asked to supply the housekeeping staff. A few days later Sister Pasqualina arrived with two assistants. For seven years she cooked not only for Bishop Pacelli but often for the [illegible] of [illegible]. Pacelli was the dean [illegible]

In 1929, Pacelli returned to Rome to receive the red hat and take up his honored post of [illegible] secretary of State, succeeding the aged Cardinal [illegible].

The [illegible] Sisters of [illegible] with two other grey sisters, was also transferred to Rome to act as his personal housekeeper.

Ten years later when Cardinal Pacelli became Pope Pius XII, the spiritual head of [illegible] Catholics, Mother Pasqualina stayed on to look after his temporal well being. She became Mother Superior of the group of Grey Sisters who [illegible] at the Vatican and at Castel Gandolfo, the papal summer residence.

Unfortunately this sparse diet, along with the Pope's spartan dicipline of living, only agravated the exausting effects of his multiple activities. The result was that in 1945, the Pope suffered a heart attack that was nearly fatal. His personal physician, Dr. Ricardo Galeazzo Lisi, studying the Pope's general condition, found that the Pope was suffering from under nourishment. The Pope had for decades been living on what was virtually a reducing diet. His high-powered activities were being conducted on low powered fuel.

The physician grappled with the [illegible] problem at once [illegible] which [illegible] almost made [illegible]

Therefore Dr. Lisi, enlisting Mother Pasqualina's cooperation instructed her in the mysteries of vitamins, calories and balanced [illegible]

She proved an adept pupil. She asked for and received authorization from the Pope to have the right to interrupt an audience at mealtimes and to [illegible] to oblige him to stick to his daily routine which she does with German [illegible] and efficiency.

In 1947 Mother Pasqualina took on another interesting duty. It is well known in the Vatican that the Pope keeps a diary which he intends to leave as a guide to his successor. The light in the Pope's study is rarely put out before one o'clock in the morning and it is said that this is because the Pope spends the period before retiring entering in his own hand the record of each day's events in his journal which is kept under lock and key.

When the Pope's right hand was stricken with rheumatism in 1947 the members of his staff naturally wondered who would be entrusted to make the entries in the diary which the Pope might wish to dictate. Chosen for this intimate and important task was none other than Mother Pasqualina.

Couple Married At HMCS Naden

Gowned in a [illegible] length [illegible] over taffeta bridal gown, Miss Dorothy Silva White entered St. Andrew's Chapel, HMCS Naden on the arm of her father for her marriage to Charles Ferguson.

Rev. H. B. Godfrey officiated at the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Francis Cunningham, 1060 Harriet Road and the son of Mrs. Annie Ferguson of Calgary.

The bride's gown was fashioned with long sleeves tapering into lily-points over the hands. Her headdress, a crown studded with pearls and rhinestones, held a fingertip-length veil with scalloped edges of lace and embossed with lace flowers. Her bouquet was of white carnations and red rosebuds with ribbons streaming to skirt length.

Maid of honor was Miss Claire Stevenson, while bridesmaid was Miss Arlene Logan and junior bridesmaid Miss Joyce Dingsdale, Alberni. They wore gowns of pale blue, lilac and pink respectively, fashioned of taffeta with rounded necklines, gathered pleated skirts, deeper toned velvet sashes, matching tiaras, and carried colonial bouquets.

The groom had William Forbes as best man and ushers were Larry Smith and Keith Silva White, brother of the bride.

Pale colored chrysanthemums were placed on the altar for the ceremony. Mrs. Ruth [illegible] LLCM, ALCM was organist. Soloist was Mrs. D. MacFarlane.

A reception was held in [illegible] Banquet Hall. The bride's uncle, William Hallada, Nanaimo, proposed the toast.

Following a honeymoon to be spent in Calgary, Southern Alberta and Banff, the newlyweds will make their home at 1261 [illegible]stone Avenue.

Machine-Made Laces Rival Delicate Hand-Made Work

That aristocratic favorite of elegant ladies and gentlemen from the Renaissance to the present day, lace, has this year swept back into a position of major fashion importance with the return of the frankly fem[illegible]

[illegible] of the past [illegible] laces were accessible only to the wealthy, modern industrial methods have now made laces an integral part of nearly every woman's wardrobe. Closely rivaling in beauty the delicate hand-made patterns, today's machine-made laces of nylon, cotton, acetate, metalized and elasticized threads are blossoming forth into a host of new and exciting uses. These range from a sweeping gold-trimmed evening coat to bathing suits sturdy enough to brave the strongest currents

Though its history dates back into antiquity, lace, as we know it, was first made about the 15th century. It probably evolved from a type of needlework made by Italian [illegible] ated church vestments by drawing threads out of linen fabric and then filling in the spaces with intricate patterns. Eventually, the original framework of linen material was abandoned and an open lacy network of twisted stitches developed. This design was worked over a parchment pattern with a skein of thread and a needle, using various forms of the button hole stitch. The Venetians, who perfected this "point" or "needle lace," poetically called it "punta in aira" (stitches in the air).

Almost simultaneously, a second type of lace was developed in Germany. This was made by twisting and plaiting groups of threads fastened by [illegible]

[illegible]

For nearly 300 years, some of the best mechanical minds in Europe wrestled with the problem of building a machine which could duplicate the intricate designs of hand-made lace. So it was perhaps surprising that it should be an Englishman, John Heathcoat, who invented the first bobbinet machine in 1809, for England was not at the time outstanding as a lace producer. However, the government was not slow to realize the significance of this invention and to [illegible] to protect it from outside competition quickly [illegible] and forbade its export abroad.

5 CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to say thank you and to express sincere appreciation to all the kind neighbors and friends for their beautiful cards and flowers, and for their comforting messages when my dear mother passed away. To the nurses and Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, and to Dr. Bapty and Dr Piddes, I am most grateful for their wonderful patience, and the care they gave mother during her prolonged illness.—Miss Helen Kishlansky

Our sudden loss in the death of our beloved husband and father, Robert Steele, has left an emptiness in our hearts that can never be wholly filled but the many kind words and acts of sympathy from our relatives and friends have helped immeasurably. We are deeply grateful to Dr Pierre D'Estrube, Sister Mary Albert and staff of St Joseph's Hospital, and Rev D. Carr, pallbearers and Chaplin's Funeral Chapel.—The Family

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends for their kind messages of sympathy and beautiful flowers received during the recent loss of our beloved husband and father. Pauline, Eric, Leslie and Donald Stewart.

6 IN MEMORIAM

BELL—In loving memory of Mary Jane Bell who passed away Nov. 16, 1954.

In our home she is fondly remembered.
Sweet memories cling to her name;
Those who loved her in life sincerely,
Still love her in death just the same.

—Remembered by her husband and family, sisters and brother.

CARSTAIRS—In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Ruby Dorothy, who passed away Nov. 18, 1953.

There is someone who misses you sadly
And finds the time long since you went.
There is someone who thinks of you always
And tries to be brave and content.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear;
'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why
The best are always first to die.

—Always remembered by her loving husband, daughters, sons-in-law and grandchildren.

31A POULTRY HATCHING EGGS, ETC.

Kimberchiks Have a Record for Outstanding Performance

During the 5 years ending with 1955 Kimberchiks entered in the California Official Random Sample Laying Test averaged:

250 eggs per bird, based on the number of pullets at one week of age

91.9% livability to about 18 months.
$5.86 income over feed costs

Although this 5-year record indicates very fine breeding, the real worth of Kimberchiks is how they perform on commercial poultry farms.

Because of their large early egg size, high production and good livability, Kimberchiks may well be the answer to more profitable operation for you. That's why we suggest you start some K-137 Kimberchiks and compare them under your own farm conditions with the birds you have previously raised.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

Danny Kaye, the last of the TV holdouts, will make an unprecedented debut Dec. 2 — appearing simultaneously in 11 countries in a 90-minute program for which he gets nothing.

CBS will carry the North American end of Kaye's show, which will deal with his various tours for UNICEF—the UN organization that helps sick and needy children around the world.

It will be shown as Edward R. Murrow's See It Now program.

* * *

This should be one of the best days ever for television.

It starts with a couple of good football games, then hits one of the high spots of the season with NBC's telecast of Puccini's "La Boheme" at 2 p.m.

See It Now, at 4.30, will poke through atomic-powered submarines. The Ed Sullivan-Steve Allen battle has such guests as Duke Ellington, Olsen and Johnson and Elvis Presley (on film).

At nine, the list is Bob Hope on channel 4, Siobhan McKenna on channel 5 and James Dean on channel 11—all multi-million-dollar properties.

TV BITS: Warner Brothers, producers of TV successes Cheyenne and Conflict, plan an hour-long western entitled Colt .45 next season. . . NBC has bought television rights to the "Texas Guinan Story" and plans to star Kay Starr in a spectacular. . . . ABC's Martin Agronsky, best newscaster at the conventions, is being wooed by NBC.

Today's Best

The power of music will be discussed by Dimitri Tiomkin, Muzzy Marcelino, Miliza Korjus and Tex Ritter on The Christopher program. (Channel 4, 11 a.m.)

Ever-popular "La Boheme" stars Dorothy Coulter as Mimi, Jan McArt as Musetta, John Alexander as Rodolfo, and it's in English. (Channel 4, 2 p.m.)

See It Now - atomic-powered submarines. (Channels 11 and 12, 4.30 p.m.)

Topper returns for another season. (Channel 4, 5 p.m.)

Will Jack Benny sell his Maxwell? (Channels 11 and 12, 7 p.m.)

Ed Sullivan hosts Maurice Evans and Nelson Eddy (channel 2) and Mitzi Green (channel 11), while Steve Allen has Duke Ellington, Olsen and Johnson, Gene Nelson, the Father Knows Best cast and new singer George Hamilton IV (channel 4), all at 8 p.m.

Bob Hope's guests are Joan Davis, Julie London and Perry Como (channel 4), Siobhan McKenna does three Irish plays (channel 5); James Dean is seen with Natalie Wood and Eddie Albert in "I'm a Fool" (channel 11) all at 9 p.m. Take your pick, they're all good.

Marjorie Main has advice (?) for Spring Byington on December Bride. (Channel 12, 9.30.)

Sport Specials

Best sports show on the air, the pro football game, pits San Francisco against Green Bay (channels 11 and 12, 11 a.m.)

Washington meets Stanford (channel 5, 11.45 a.m.) and Regina plays Edmonton (channel 2, 5 p.m.) in filmed games.

Don Carter goes for two against Bill (bowler of the year) Lillard. (Channel 4, 10.30.)

Man Alive features a Billy Graham-Paddy Young brawl. (Channel 11, 10.30.)

Movie Lineup

1.30—"Counter-Attack," channel 5, Paul Muni, Larry Parks.

2.30—"Four Mothers," channel 12, the Lane sisters.

2.30—"Mr. Drake's Duck," channel 11, Doug Fairbanks Jr.

3.00—"Docks of New York," channel 13, East Side Kids.

10.35—"Maltese Falcon," channel 12, Humphrey Bogart as Sam Spade.

11.00—"Bewitched," channel 5, Edmund Gwenn.

11.00—"The Angel with the Trumpet," channel 13

11.15—"The More the Merrier," channel 2, Jean Arthur, Charles Coburn

11.15—"The Little Fugitive," channel 11, a wonderful movie about a boy loose on Coney Island.

The ideal answer to family living is available now in a new design, 4½ rooms and basement. This is why it is so wonderfully different: While a small plan, it offers a 23-ft. 6-in. living room-dining room combination, with a beautiful electric kitchen (all three along the front of the house). The kitchen is finished in tasteful colors, including rich chestnut, natural mahogany cabinet doors and large chrome hardware, plus dining bar for four ... all of which is closed off by means of the provided wall-to-wall drape hung from a plastered valance ... and the exterior appearance of the home is just as terrific ... Altogether a home designed for today's way of living. Douglas Hawkes Real Estate, 406A Royal Trust Building, 612 View. Phone 4-7126 (after hours 3-0160 or 4-7126).

Rating Found In Wreck By Admiral

Sidney RCMP last night were waiting until a naval rating could be interviewed in HMCS Naden Hospital to question him about a Friday night car crash that nearly took his life.

Joseph Norman Perret, stationed with the navy's VU33 Squadron at Patricia Bay, was in "satisfactory" condition with a fractured pelvis, back injuries [illegible]

Perret was found lying in a ditch beside Amity Road, about three-quarters of a mile north of Mount Newton Crossroad in Central Saanich, at 11 p.m. by Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard (Ret.) and Mrs. Hibbard. The late model car had crashed into a stone wall and was a "total wreck."

Poice said the car had been reported taken from the Army and Navy parking lot at Sidney.

Surgery Needed

Tot with Half Heart Alive by 'Miracle'

SACO, Me. (UP) — Flaxen-haired Louise Anderson — who many not live to open her Christmas presents — will find out next week whether the state will finance her trip to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Four-year-old Louise — born with half a heart — is alive right now only by "a miracle," say doctors. A trip to the clinic for further examination and possible surgery is her only hope for life, they said.

The state health and welfare department's child service head, Dr. Ella Langer, said yesterday a decision whether to pay for the trip will be forthcoming "next week."

The pretty, blue-eyed little girl is allowed to pay for only short periods. Doctors have warned that too much excitement may be fatal.

Her parents even have been cautioned not to let Louise cry too much because the exertion might kill her.

The parents have not told Louise that she is different from other little girls and boys who can romp and play, but Louise is beginning to sense something is wrong.

"I don't want to see any more doctors," Louise told her mother yesterday.

Seven Cubs from the Windsor Park "B" Pack came up to the troop. These were: Richard Roberts, Michael Bell, Jack Angus, Allan Ferguson, Bob Alton, Chris Tuck and Vic Downward.

Larry Kern was presented with his Leaping Wolf by Akela P. Sheffield, while Akela F. Naish presented Francis Steele with his. The program closed with a campfire.

A new scoutmaster has been found for Parkdale Troop and the group announces that more boys can now be taken in with the additional leadership available. Mr. Fred Graham, an active outdoorsman, has taken over as scoutmaster with Mr. E. Collett as assistant. The troop meets in St. Mark's Hall on Boleskine near Douglas.

Provincial headquarters has announced that Mr. John Hensher of Ontario, has agreed to head up a Part II Rover Wood Badge course for British Columbia and Alberta if the number of applications warrant it. This would be the first such course in B.C. and all leaders interested in attending should advise district office.

A new cub pack has been formed at The Church by the Lake at Elk Lake. This group will soon be holding meetings and prospective cubs should contact the cubmaster of the group, Mrs. J. A. Hawes, at 9-2388. This brings the number of active groups in the Victoria area to 51.
